This is the list of men appointed by the mayors of Oakland, Alameda, Piedmont, Hayward, San Leandro and Livermore, as a part of the committee of 16 to make a study of city and county consolidation and to prepare a report that the taxpayers will have an understanding of the consolidation plan before hasty steps are taken involving the expenditure of $100,000.

The committee is now complete with the exception of the members from Berkeley and Emeryville. These have not been selected because of the absence of Mayor Bartlett of Berkeley and Mayor Christie of Emeryville.

The committee has been directed to investigate the length of time before a consolidation charter could be effective, and to make a preliminary report in time for the meeting, August 5, of all interests concerned in the proposed consolidation.

'Don't Sign Petition,' Says Alameda Mayor

ALAMEDA, July 29.—An open letter to every home in the city was sent out today by Mayor Frank Otis requesting the citizens to refrain from signing a petition now being circulated for the purpose of immediately calling an election on the question of city and county consolidation.

Mayor Otis contends the several elections and the work of a board of freeholders which would be set in motion by the proposed petition, could be better handled by a committee of representative citizens in the opinion of the mayor, who further states this committee should make a full report of its findings before any freeholders' election is held.

Cruelty Drove Wife To Kill, Says Sister

MRS. EMMA FREITAS (right), on trial for murder of her husband, and MRS. HATTIE WHITE, mother of the county jail, who has assisted in sustaining her spirits during the ordeal.

Sordid Story of Wrong and Cruelty Related by Mrs. Freitas

By EDNA B. KINARD.

"What's the use of living. Nobody loves me," said Mrs. Emma Freitas, now on trial in Superior Judge James G. Quinn's court for the murder of her husband, Tony Freitas, this morning.

Freitas, the mother of three children, recalled today as the last words before the shooting on April 10, "I think my sister was insane and did not know what she did," she told the court and jury this morning.

She was the first witness called for the defense of the young woman whose fate will be with the jury some time tomorrow.

Again there were hints of the "mysterious letter," purported to have been written by Mrs. Freitas, Deputy District Attorney Frank M. Shay in opening the rebuttal made by the defense.

The document in evidence, Attorney Nate Coghlan was as determined that the letter should not be exhibited. The afternoon session opened with prosecution and defense engaged in a legal battle over this letter. Shay claimed the right on behalf of the state to show motive. Coghlan maintained that the homicide charge should not be made unless motive was admissible.

MOTHER OF SLAIN MAN ATTENDS TRIAL

After the stirring scenes of yesterday when Mrs. Freitas related her brief story, the court room this morning returned to its routine. Friends and witnesses occupied their regular seats. Behind the rail the mother of Tony Freitas sat with her friends to listen to the defense which claimed insanity the cause of the shooting on April 10. Mrs. Freitas sobbed as her sister related her circumstances of her marriage life.

Attorney Coghlan rested his case at 11:30 a. m. Mrs. Fannie Fernandez, forelady at the cannery with whom the Freitas family formerly lived, was the first witness called in rebuttal. Her testimony will not be taken until the court decides whether or not motive may be shown through the introduction of the letter. Mrs. Fernandez was a prosecution witness on Tuesday but was excused when Shay withdrew the document before it had been placed in exhibit.

WOMAN'S QUEER IDEAS

How Mrs. Freitas on returning from the county hospital some three years ago, where she suffered from a nervous breakdown, was interested by Tony Freitas, when she was in a delicate condition, believed her baby boy, Daniel, was still to be born was related by the sisters of Mrs. Freitas. Mrs. Lena Nichols and Mrs. Lydia Hutton corroborated by her brother-in-law, D. S. Hutton, as grounds for their belief that she was insane.

"I believe she is insane now," she concluded.

BERLIN, July 29.—During fighting on the Polish battlefield, which has followed Russia's acceptance of Poland's plea for an armistice, the Russian army has broken through the Polish front over its entire length along the Niemen river, said a dispatch from Warsaw today. The Polish loss is reported to be heavy.

By FRANK MASON. International News Service Staff Correspondent.

A possible explanation of the continued fighting by the Russian army was contained in the following dispatch from Warsaw today: "Officers of the old Russian regime in the Russian army are refusing to obey orders for an armistice with the Polish army. They are developing between the Bolshevik commissars and the army generals. Apparently the latter are either unable or unwilling to restrain the troops."

AGITATORS JAILED

The Polish military authorities at Pinsk have arrested 150 German agitators who were working to stir up trouble among the Polish troops.

Under the terms, advice state, Villa is to be allowed a year's army pay for his soldiers, and be permitted to return to his home in Torreon for personal service, where this condition will be effected. WASHINGTON, July 29.—Official confirmation of the surrender of Francisco Villa, Mexican rebel leader, to the Mexican government, reached the state department today from the American consul at Piedras Negras, while a demand by this government for the extradition of Villa for his indictment of the Columbus, N. BANDIT ORIENT

MEXICO CITY, July 29.—"I am surrendering unconditionally because the country needs peace for reconstruction," said Francisco Villa today, when he met General Martinez, chief of the operations in states of Coahuila and Nuevo Leon, at the railroad station in Sabana.

When General Martinez, who is assisting the rebellion, met Villa, arrived at the station, the rebel general appeared with head uncovered and extended hand. Villa will make his residence at Nieves station, according to a government communique. His men, it is added, will go from Sabana to Torreon on foot.

EACH OF BANDITS TO GET YEAR'S PAY

Villa's men, newspaper accounts say, were offered two trains, but refused to use them. Each of the six hundred soldiers will receive one year's pay, a check in life.

Amusing stories were told of the negotiations between Villa and General Martinez preliminary to the surrender. The most friendly manner, around the plaza at Sabana, discussing the terms while each kept one hand on his revolver.

It has been suggested in foreign diplomatic circles that the United States and British governments may ask Mexico to punish him for his crimes against foreigners.

Volunteers Are Called For by Lower California Governor to War on the Army De La Huerta Is Mobilizing

3000 Mexican Troops Leave Ensenada; Airmen Are On Watch for Army Movement; Citizens Are Told to Arm

MEXICALI, Lower Cal., July 29 (By The Associated Press).—Governor Estaban Cantu, governor of the northern district of Lower California, and his staff, announced today receipt of telegrams from all parts of the state, pledging support to the governor's plans to resist occupation by the 3000 Mexican Federal soldiers, reported on the way to Ensenada, and west coast points, on Colorado, below Yuma, Ariz.

These telegrams, it was announced, urged the governor to "sit tight" and assured him the senders were "with him to the end."

The governor and his staff were up and at work on their plans of defense by 5 o'clock this morning. They expressed confidence in their ability to defend the "upper" part of the state, the Yuma soldiers, said to form the "army of occupation."

Five hundred enlisted yesterday and last night at three recruiting stations opened by Governor Cantu, began training today at the Plaza Del Toros, the scene of many bull fights, provided for their entertainment by the governor.

BOYS, 15, ARE ENLISTING

The men were drilled by officers of the Cantu forces. It was said that boys, as young as 15, were applying for enlistment in many cases even purchasing parts of their own equipment. It was announced recruiting was continuing and that the governor hoped to obtain a force of at least 10,000 men.

The Chinese of Mexicali, many of whom were said to be wealthy, called upon the governor, it was announced, and would raise any sum needed to equip the forces which are being raised.

They were quoted as saying they were averse to enlisting until they had received consent from the Chinese and American ministers at Mexico City. They were said to have telegraphed the situation here to both officials. All of the men appointed officers in the district by Governor Cantu.

They were said to be ready to give him all financial assistance in their power and to take an active share in any fighting which may develop.

CANTU SENDS OUT THREE AIRPLANES

SAN DIEGO, Cal., July 29.—Reports reached here today that Governor Cantu had dispatched two of his three scout airplanes southward toward Mexicali to feel out the Mexican expeditionary forces which are reported to have landed at San Felipe, from which point they expect to operate north along the Colorado toward Cantu headquarters at Mexicali.

A strong Cantu force is also said to have concentrated south of Yuma, Ariz., with the object of working southward to oppose the advance of Huerta troops. The Cantu force is reported to have landed at San Felipe, from which point they expect to operate north along the Colorado toward Cantu headquarters at Mexicali.

has been sent from Guaymas north on the gulf of California. The second expedition, which goes from Manzanillo, has as its object the capture of Ensenada, from which base an attack on Tijuana would be made.

A statement sent out by W. H. Fatten of the U. S. Grant Hotel, in San Diego, stated that the governor had been laughing at the military clash, and say that a program of uninterrupted festivities is being arranged and will be carried out.

GOVERNMENTS TO SUPPORT NATIONALS

In connection with commercial concessions in Rumania, the Government agreed not to compete, but to enter into a treaty with the Rumanian government to obtain all rights there.

They also agreed that in connection with oil concessions and shares belonging to former enemy subjects, or bodies, in Rumania and neighboring countries, the Government, they will support their respective nationalities in commercial and industrial enterprises in connection with the acquisition of such property.

Shares and interests belonging to former enemy companies and corporations, that can be secured by such joint action, will be divided fifty per cent each to British and French interests.

EQUALITY ASSURED BY PACT TENETS

In companies formed to undertake exploitation of these concessions, the nationals of the two countries will have equal voting power, as well as equal proportions of the capital subscribed, and equal representation on the executive board.

The governments also agree they will support their respective nationalities in any effort they may make to obtain commercial petroleum concessions and export facilities in Russia and in any territory which, as the result of the war, may have been detached from Russia.

Mikado's People Nervous On American Score; Marysville Fire Stories Are Denied—Washington Eying Orient

BY ASSOCIATED PRESS. LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

TOKYO, July 28.—Japan has received a communication, said to be from the United States, pointing out, among other things, that America is unable to recognize Japanese control of the northern half of the Island of Saghalien, the Nichi Nichi of Tokyo says. The newspaper yesterday announced that a note partaking of the nature of a protest had been received from a "foreign government" but the impression exists here that the communication really is not a protest but an exposition of America's viewpoint on the occupation of Saghalien with something of America's attitude toward the territory occupied.

It apparently is felt here that any publication of the details of the note should emanate from Washington and not Tokyo.

Meanwhile it is considered likely that Japan, after mature deliberation, will forward an answer to Washington in an attempt to remove any misunderstanding of Japan's views.

JAPAN IN NERVOUS CRISIS

Appearances here indicate that Japan is passing through another nervous crisis concerning her relations with the United States. Numerous interpretations have been made in the district that the American attitude, and while the important newspapers are counseling their readers to keep cool, it is apparent that a certain amount of apprehension exists concerning the result of the Congressional inquiry in California.

The Japanese, however, seem convinced that it is being conducted with the utmost fairness, and after a number of Americans have been sent forward spontaneously to fight in the district, the Japanese were engaged in attempts to steal Japanese maps, and these have resulted in strict surveillance among tourists.

FIRE DECLARED NOT INCENDIARY

With regard to the Marysville affair, the foreign office today gave a cable message from Consul General Ohkura at Yamanashi, stating that the fire started July 21, in an automobile garage owned by an American, and that three or four Japanese houses and stores were burned. The consul general called attention to reports that were current claiming the cause of the fire was due to under-selling of white merchants by Japanese grocers in Marysville, and consequent resentment on the part of the former, but he added that the police denied that this was the fact. The Consul General also stated that the case was one of incendiarism connected with the anti-Japanese agitators.

To the consul general's message the foreign office in its statement adds details that any of its officials had made any statement as to the Japanese press that they thought the fire the work of anti-Japanese agitators.

As to reports of map stealing there seems no foundation whatever for them.

U. S. WATCHING JAPANESE

WASHINGTON, July 29.—The United States is understood to be watching Japanese relations and general policy in the Far East because of the desire of the colonial government of control of the Russian Eastern railway by the Japanese and their occupation of Northern Saghalien and much of the maritime province of Siberia.

Secretary Coghlan has conferred with Sir Auckland Geddes, British ambassador, and Sir Balfour Astor, British ambassador to Japan, who is here on his way to London.

British and American interests in China and Japan are regarded as parallel because of the large business transactions between those countries and Canada and Australia, as well as the desire of the colonial government of California and other Pacific coast states to solve the problem of Oriental labor.

Changes in the status of the Chinese Eastern railway have been closely watched since this form the most valuable branch of the Siberian railway and affords the only practical communication between the interior of Siberia and Vladivostok, and both the United States and Great Britain are understood to desire its international character be preserved to assure the maintenance of the open door.

As to Saghalien, the United States is reluctant to concur in its occupation.

VILLA RETIRES AS BANDIT TO LIFE OF WEALTH

A rise from bandit with a price on his head to one of the dominant figures in Mexico, and a fall again to outlawry, comprises the career of Francisco Villa, a man both loved and hated as no other has been in Mexico since the time of Benito Juarez.

Born in 1858 in the little mining town of Las Nieves, Durango, of poor parents, he followed the trade of butcher until the death of his father, when he and his mother and sister went to Western Chihuahua. There he became a vaquero on one of the great cattle ranches and obtained the mountainous wealth which enabled him to laugh at pursuit for many years.

Many stories are told of his first clash with the laws of Mexico, but the one most frequently related is that a captain in one of President Diaz's regiments won the heart of his sister and eloped with her without the formality of a marriage. Villa, according to the story, pursued the pair, forced a marriage, forced his newly acquired brother-in-law to sign his own death certificate and dig his own grave, shot him and escaped to the mountains. That was the truth of this report, President Diaz placed a price on his head.

NAME ABANDONED

Villa's real name was Doroteo Ochoa, but he abandoned this, and became known as Villa among his followers. He gathered about him a band of desperadoes, and became a terror to the well-to-do of Northern Chihuahua, leading to the attempts of federal troops to capture him. The spoils his band acquired from the rich land owners and mining men were frequently shared with the poor people and he never lacked a friendly warning when the officers of the law spread their traps for him.

Although Villa had been one of the independent chiefs who met and formulated the plan of Guadalupe Victoria, the chief of the Constitutional forces, the two men always had been inimical.

AMERICAN TOWN RAIDED

The most violent act of his career was the attack on the American town of Columbus, N. M., and its garrison of three troops of American cavalry, resulting in the death of United States soldiers in Mexico.

Whatever his crimes, and they were many, none could doubt Villa's courage. He loved fighting for its own sake and seemed to find it under fire. For a time he was almost an idol to his men and ruled them by an odd mixture of love and fear. Most of the songs sung about Mexican camp fires had him for their hero and his soldiers were proud to brag that they were of Villa's "gente," his feudal subjects.

Villa is believed to be enormously wealthy as the result of his years of banditry. He is said to have hidden during his bandit career millions of dollars in bullion, and has only to stretch a new cashmere vest to increase one of his money piles.

Cantu Calls Volunteers to Resist Invasion by Federals

are preparing to attack Lower California, both by land and sea in an effort to wrest control of the peninsula from Governor Esteban Cantu.

It was learned today President de la Huerta's expedition against Cantu will attempt to penetrate from bases to be established at Ensenada on the west coast, and San Felipe on the east coast. These points are controlled by Cantu.

Following Francisco Villa's agreement to surrender, the De la Huerta Government evidently feels it has only to extend its sway to Lower California to have all of Mexico under control of the federal authorities, for the first time since the downfall of Diaz.

The principal cities in Lower California are Ensenada, Mexicali and Tijuana. The two latter are on the United States border. The owners of gambling establishments pay fees to the Cantu Government.

CANTU BEGINS MOBILIZING TROOPS.

MEXICALI (Lower Calif.), July 23.—Governor Esteban Cantu of Lower California yesterday started mobilizing troops to resist an invasion of his district by two armies of federal soldiers now moving on the northern part of this state.

The governor posted proclamations calling on all citizens of the district to resist the invasion by Alameda, Oregon and President de la Huerta.

The new move follows the recent refusal of Governor Cantu to give up his position to Baldomero Alameda, appointed governor by the provisional president. Cantu claims that he has secured protection in the event of invasion of this part of Mexico by Mexican federal troops in a statement issued here last night over the signature of Governor Cantu.

4000 ARMY READY IN FOUR DAYS.

Preparations by Governor Cantu and his lieutenants to resist invasion proceeded with feverish haste last night. The governor announced he could have an army of 4000 men ready within four days to take the field against the Mexican federal soldiers, which he said he expected to arrive from Manzanillo and Guaymas.

Governor Cantu stated he thought the invaders would number about 3000, those from Manzanillo to attack Ensenada and those from Guaymas to strike at some Colorado river point, probably near Yuma.

It was stated by officials close to Governor Cantu that during the last two or three days a large number of troops had arrived at Calexico from Mexico City. These men it was asserted, held commissions direct from Provisional President de la Huerta.

LARGE NUMBERS FROM CALIFORNIA.

It was said one of them held a commission as that of governor of Lower California, but no one professed to know the identity of this man. Several of these appointees attempted to see Governor Cantu, it was stated, but the governor denied them audience.

These men gave rise to some suspicion and much speculation, it was said. The news Governor Cantu claimed to receive from personal friends in Manzanillo and Guaymas of the invasion by federals came as a complete surprise.

Work on the new capital building and extensive street and sewer work and other public improvements were immediately stopped on the announcement of the reported invasion.

PROMINENT MEN AS VOLUNTEERS.

Mexicans of all ranks and stations in civil life were flocking to the executive offices last night to offer their services to the governor. It was announced, to help raise troops and to serve personally. There was a long line of men in front of each of three recruiting offices hurriedly opened by Governor Cantu.

A proclamation of the Governor calling upon all citizens of the district to resist invasion by "Alameda, Oregon and President de la Huerta" was posted conspicuously here and in other cities of Lower California.

Large quantities of arms and ammunition are stored here, it was said by Mexican officials and the regular troops, numbering about 1000, have been drilled by veteran officers of many nations. They are armed with rifles, machine guns and field artillery, and several hundred are mounted.

In addition, it was stated, Governor Cantu's forces would be aided by three airplanes, one to be operated by Paul Dato, a brother-in-law to the governor, and two by American ex-servicemen. It was said more than 1000 bombs had been manufactured for the use of the aviators.

Governor Cantu, immediately after learning of the reported invasion, sent a telegram to Provisional President de la Huerta protesting against invasion and declining "all responsibility for the dreadful consequences" that might result.

The governor said he expected the troops from Manzanillo would attack Ensenada in about eight days and that those from Guaymas would attack some Colorado river point near Yuma, Ariz., in about five days.

Officials here said dispatch of federal troops here would be in line with the request to Provisional President de la Huerta several weeks ago by Baldomero Alameda, who was appointed governor to Lower California but to whom Governor Cantu declined to retain it.

When Governor Cantu practically refused to give up his position it was announced he had been authorized to resist the invasion. Governor Cantu said tonight his relations since then with the federal government had been friendly and the refusal of Cantu to give up his position to Baldomero Alameda, appointed governor by the provisional president, Cantu claims that he has secured protection in the event of invasion of this part of Mexico by Mexican federal troops in a statement issued here last night over the signature of Governor Cantu.

POLICE SEEKING TWO WHO FOUND PIN WORTH $1000

SAN JOSE, July 23.—Police detectives have been asked to locate a woman and a girl who found a diamond worth $1000 which was lost in South First street a couple of days ago by Mrs. J. E. Bean of McKendrie street, this city.

Shortly after the girl had been lost a woman and a girl entered the Lean jewelry store on First street and asked the diamond expert to estimate the value of a diamond pin which they had found. He stated that it was worth several hundred dollars. The girl stated that she had found the pin on the street and the woman said she had found it in the newspapers or she might "get into trouble." The woman and girl then left the store. They are now sought by police detectives.

Lower California at the time, his force fell back to Ensenada after the defeat at the hands of Alameda's band.

Alameda remained in possession of Ensenada for about two months when he was forced to evacuate the town after Gov. Vega had recruited a force and marched on the place. Alameda was killed in this action and the marauders were driven across the border, where they were arrested by the United States and held at Fort Rosecrans for a time. All were released later.

A garrison is maintained at Tia Juana and probably could muster 500 to 1000 men. Three or four machine guns and several three-inch field pieces comprise the artillery of the garrison.

U. S. GRAND JURY MAY INVESTIGATE.

LOS ANGELES, July 23.—Federal officers were investigating here last night reports that efforts had been made to recruit a force of American volunteers to invade Lower California and to overthrow the government of Esteban Cantu. J. Robert O'Connor, United States district attorney, said the matter might be referred to the United States district grand jury.

Baldomero Alameda, appointed several weeks ago by Provisional President de la Huerta of Mexico to succeed Gov. Cantu, but not permitted the governor to succeed him, stated here tonight he would not participate in any trouble that might result from the reports of Lower California being invaded by Mexican federal troops.

LOS ANGELES, July 23.—An unnamed Mexican official, said to be in Los Angeles is quoted as declaring that three-fourths of the 15,000 Mexican residents of this city are loyal to the government of Cantu. He is said to have stated that while no open demonstration for Cantu is expected here, aid probably would be given him. Police and federal authorities are watching for "doubtful shades" to see no arms ammunition are shipped from California into Lower California.

Baldomero Alameda, appointed by the Mexican government as successor to Cantu, but who was refused office by the latter and whose commission later was withdrawn, said that efforts were made here recently to interest him in a plot by alleged English, Canadian and American former service men to seize the territory. Alameda said that the advances made to him were rejected because of their utter lack of value.

Robert O'Connor, United States district attorney, said that such a plot would be a serious breach of international law and if any tangible evidence of it was obtained, the federal grand jury would immediately be called to consider it.

HUERTA TAKES STEPS TO SUPPRESS REVOLT.

WASHINGTON, July 23.—The De la Huerta government in Mexico has taken steps to suppress the reported "rebellion" in Lower California, led by Governor Cantu according to a brief dispatch to the state department from the American embassy in Mexico City.

Governor Cantu expects attack from two points—Ensenada and a point on the Gulf of Lower California at the mouth of the Colorado river. The federal force en route from Manzanillo on two gunboats, 2000 strong, intends to strike at Ensenada. One thousand men en route from Guaymas will march on the gulf position, the two armies attempting converging movement to close in on Tia Juana, below San Diego, Cal., and Mexicali, a border town and seat of the Lower California government.

Cantu has five or six days in which to prepare his defenses as it will require time for the "invading" armies to arrive at their objectives.

Reiteration of his statement to Provisional President de la Huerta was made today by Cantu who charges the federal government with "full responsibility of the dreadful consequences" of an armed invasion of the northern district of Lower California.

Overthrow of his government and armed occupation of Lower California by federal troops "at the grave risk of international complications" is the purpose of the movement, according to Cantu's version.

He accuses his refusal to yield his office to Baldomero Alameda, federal appointee, and his opposition to national elections at this time as the cause of the hostility against him.

Meanwhile he is preparing to "fight to the last" to repel the invaders.

AMERICAN TROOPS MOVED TO BORDER.

SAN JOSE, July 23.—Three distinct movements of American troops now are under way on the Mexican border, but none of these movements has any connection with the military demonstration of the Mexican provisional government against Governor Esteban Cantu of the northern district of Lower California, according to an announcement from the Western department headquarters of the army here today.

A company of the Thirty-second Infantry at Yuma is being relieved by a company of the Forty-fourth Infantry from San Francisco.

The machine gun platoon of the Eleventh Cavalry at Calexico is being relieved by a platoon from the Presidio at Monterey, and a troop of the same cavalry unit at El Camero, on the California-Mexican border, is being relieved by a like troop, also from Monterey. It was announced.

"We are ready for anything that happens at the border at all times and so far as we are making no special preparations now," Col. Benjamin Alvord, adjutant general of the department, announced today.

help in military action against Russia.

BERLIN, July 23.—That Germany should be represented in the proposed conference between allied and soviet representatives at London was the opinion expressed to the Reichstag today by Dr. Walter Simons, German foreign secretary.

LONDON, July 23.—Success or failure of the proposal to hold a conference here between the entente, Soviet Russia and Russian border states representatives depends almost wholly on the armistice terms Russia lays down to the Poles, probably Saturday, in the opinion of officials.

Intimations have reached official quarters that the Russians are not finding it easy to decide on terms. A faction led by Lenin is reported to be in favor of terms that it would be reasonable to suppose the Poles would accept, while Trotsky and some of his intimates are insisting on insisting on terms so humiliating that the Poles would be forced to continue fighting or overthrow their government if the terms were accepted. Should the latter contingency arise, it would be useless to attempt a conference.

Simultaneously with the dispatch of the note to the Bolsheviks suggesting the conference, Great Britain invited Latvia, Lithuania, Finland and Estonia to participate. The first three accepted wholeheartedly. Estonia sent word that it is willing to participate, but does not express a warm approval.

BRITISH MAY REFUSE TO DEAL WITH SOVIET.

BY EARLE G. REEVES, International News Service Staff Correspondent.

LONDON, July 23.—A deadlock is threatened when the Polish and Russian armistice envoys open their parley tomorrow night or Saturday. The negotiations are expected to take place either at Baranovsk or Brest Litovsk, and probably will last at least a week.

Latest developments have given an air of uncertainty to the possibility of a general peace conference between Russia and the Russian border states in this city next month.

It is understood that the British government will refuse to continue negotiations with Bolshevik Russia for a resumption of commercial relations if the forecast of Russia's peace terms to Poland prove true. These forecasts were based upon unofficial newspaper reports. In any event, it is said, the Allies will not agree to a general conference unless peace reigns on the Russo-Polish battlefield.

British officialdom claims to have obtained a promise from the French not to press the Russian national debt until peace is arranged between Russia and Poland.

The latest stand taken by the Bolshevik government is that it will not enter a general conference in London unless the negotiations include peace with both Great Britain and France. France is said to be adamant in her opposition to this proposal.

again, dragged me by the hair. I went to my father's. He begged me to come back.

"He always wanted me to go to work. I was sick and went to Dr. Ward. Tony said all the doctors wanted was my money. I went to work to earn the money to pay. It would cost $150. My father gave me $50, I had saved $25 myself. I was getting 25 cents an hour for work. The money was in my dresser the day Tony said he'd leave me. When he had gone it was not there."

AFFINITY IN CASE DESCRIBED BY WIFE

The sight of the motorcycle suit which Tony wore on Easter Sunday caused Mrs. Freitas to weep. The spots of blood she had seen when he was offered to her for identification.

"He told me he had been out with a 13-year-old girl," she cried. "I tried to wash him, but I could not. I beat me."

The name of Helen Freitas of Newark was introduced in the cross-examination by the prosecution. The testimony was part follows:

"Had he threatened to leave you during the week of April 4?"

"No, sir."

"Prior to that time?"

"No, sir. Not before that Saturday night."

"What did you say to him when he threatened to leave April 10?"

"If you think more of this woman than me and the babies, go."

"Who was this woman?"

"I don't know. Since my first baby was born he had been hanging around her. He gave her presents and spent his money on her. He bought her a toilet set for $15 and a bracelet. I asked him, 'Why do you not spend money on me and the babies?' He gave the presents. I wrote to her. I said, 'He was my husband and the father of my babies.' She did not answer."

"Where did you send that letter?"

"To Helen Freitas Newark. I do not know if that is her right name."

AMERICA SENDS NOTE ON SIBERIA

Japan had received an inquiry partaking of the nature of a protest from "a certain country" in this connection.

State Department officials would neither affirm nor deny that the note was from the United States, but this was the general understanding. The Japanese commander in chief in Siberia is reported to have telegraphed the Japanese minister of war July 1 as follows:

"It is my intention to seize immediately the whole of the territory to a line drawn west of Iwakai, 100 miles, including in the occupation the Manchurian concession zone. It will take about a month to complete the occupation."

Four thousand Japanese troops have been ordered to complete the occupation of the northern half of Saghalien Island, Russian territory, a delayed message says.

CITY SWEEP BY BOY CRIME WAVE, SAYS ROSBOROUGH

In a wave of juvenile crime, ranging from bank robbery to white slavery and murder to four automobile thefts a day, more than 200 youthful offenders from 12 to 16 years of age have terrorized Oakland in the past three months, Postmaster Joseph J. Rosborough declared at a luncheon of the manufacturers' bureau of the Chamber of Commerce at the Hotel Oakland yesterday.

Results of Rosborough's study of crime in Oakland showed that there are 380 boy delinquents in the detention home, that there were 200 cases of lawlessness committed by minors reported to the police in three months and brought out the statement by Chief of Police Frank Lynch that 90 per cent of the crime since prohibition came in has been "boy crimes."

Other speakers at the luncheon, which was attended by nearly 100 manufacturers, were George A. Alameda, chairman; Clifton Brooks, C. W. Foy, new secretary of the bureau, formerly district passenger agent for the Southern Pacific Company in San Francisco; V. K. Sturgis of the Sturgis Tire and Rubber Company, who entertained the bureau members in the afternoon at his plant on Foothill boulevard, and J. R. Miller of the California Cotton Mills.

SPEECH IS SENSATION
The postmaster's speech was a sensation. He promised to find a solution and remedy for juvenile crime, which he said would produce men from boys in the future.

He brought the subject close home to the manufacturers by pointing out the undesirability of juvenile criminals as future workers in the mills and factories. One-fourth of the prisoners at San Quentin are under 25 years of age, the warden told Postmaster Rosborough during Rosborough's investigation of child criminality. Four United States post office special delivery boys recently were arrested when their system of robbing the mails was discovered. It was found that they had been paying $150 a month to the other boy employees, Rosborough said.

Chairman Marwedel, in discussing the future plans of the bureau, said that every week they would inspect some industrial plant, so that at the end of fifty-two weeks the entire manufacturers' bureau membership would be equipped with knowledge of fifty-two industries with which they were previously only superficially acquainted.

COTTON OUTLOOK GOOD
"California as a great cotton producing and manufacturing state has nothing to fear from the South despite the cheap labor of that section," J. R. Miller of the California Cotton Mills declared. "California cotton fields are immune because of climatic conditions from the boll weevil, which does such great damage in the South. The cotton of this state is of a better grade and the great cotton fields produce much more than the impoverished lands of the Southern states."

"Then we have great industrial centers like Oakland where conditions for manufacture and transportation are ideal. Recently this state has come to a point where it can compete with the East in the manufacture of cotton products."

"In the manufacture of automobile tires much cotton is used. In fact 66 per cent of the tire is cotton fabric."

"California is destined to become one of the biggest cotton states in the Union. The cotton produced here is of decidedly superior grade, the dry climate adding to its textile value."

Driver Breaks Ribs Avoiding Auto Smash

In order to avoid smashing into another car, which is alleged to have cut the corner and taken the wrong side of the street, William Marshall, 1244 Twenty-third avenue, steered his own car up on the sidewalk in San Leandro last night.

So suddenly did the car change its direction, according to the police report of the accident, that Marshall was thrown from his car and sustained several broken ribs. No effort was made by the driver of the car which had been saved from being wrecked by Marshall's quick thinking to ascertain the extent of his injuries.

TOKYO, July 26.—(Delayed.)—Perez Dupuy, first Venezuelan Minister to Japan, arriving here today, explained the purpose of his mission was to encourage Japanese emigration to Venezuela, where labor for agriculture is needed, he said.

There are no Japanese in Venezuela at present, he said, but he will seek to negotiate a treaty with Japan to permit the entry of Japanese into the South American republic.

Red Army Will Smash Europe, Says Bela Kun

Ludendorff Offers to Raise
1,500,000 to Fight Russ
Bolsheviks.

BY INTERNATIONAL NEWS SERVICE.
LEASED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.

BERLIN, July 29.—Warning of a great offensive campaign by the Russian Red army to smash the central powers was sounded today at Swinemunde by Bela Kun, former communist dictator of Hungary, according to a despatch from that city to the newspaper Neuer Berliner.

Bela Kun was quoted as saying: "The revolutionary waves from the east are breaking upon the frontiers of Rumania, Hungary, Austria and Germany. The first attack by the Red army will be directed against Central Europe through Galicia in the direction of Hungary. We will pitilessly smash the Bourgeoisie of Central Europe."

Bela Kun was on his way to Russia when he was seized at Swinemunde by the German authorities and detained there. His forecast that the Russians would advance through Galicia was borne out by the last Soviet war office communiqué wireless here from Moscow which showed that the Russians had already invaded Galicia, capturing the important cities of Brody and Tarnopol, respectively five and thirty-five miles inside the Galician frontier.

PARIS, July 29.—General Ludendorff is reported in a Berlin despatch to the Paris Journal to have made an offer to the British Charge D'Affaires at Berlin to raise an army of 1,500,000 men to fight the Bolsheviks in Russia, with return to Germany of Posen and the annulment of certain clauses of Versailles treaty, among them the ones dealing with Danzig.

McADOO TO PEEL OFF COAT IN COX BEHALF, HE SAYS

NEW YORK, July 29.—William C. McAdoo will "take the stump" in the campaign to elect Governor Cox, announced in a statement today declaring he would make a number of speeches in Cox's behalf. The statement followed the visit of Democratic Chairman White to McAdoo last night.

The McAdoo statement followed a conference late last night at the McAdoo home in Huntington, L. I., with George White, Democratic National chairman, a meeting arranged at the request of Governor Cox.

"We discussed the general political situation," said McAdoo.

"Chairman White requested me to make some speeches in the campaign. I gladly consented to do so. A vigorous and aggressive campaign will be undertaken and no effort spared to make the people of the country acquainted, not only with Governor Cox's progressive ideas, but to inform them of the exceptional record made by the Democratic administration under President Wilson in the last seven years."

The former secretary assailed the Republican campaign fund, terming it a "serious menace in the forthcoming election."

He declared the Senate investigation committee, with Senator Kenyon of Iowa, chairman, would only do its duty if it held frequent hearings throughout the campaign and investigate both the Republican and Democratic parties and the manner in which money is expended. The people will not stand for a purchased presidency.

Seattle Citizens Testify In U. S. Oriental Inquiry

SEATTLE, July 29.—The national house of representatives committee on immigration and naturalization, which is investigating Japanese immigration problems on the Pacific coast, resumed its hearing in Seattle today.

Following today's session, which is expected to conclude the work of the committee in this city, Chairman Albert Johnson and Representative John Raker of California, and John C. Box of Texas, acting as a sub-committee, will go to Pacific, Gray's Harbor and Mason counties to investigate reports that Japanese are making heavy inroads in the cranberry business. Later the sub-committee will examine witnesses in Olympia and will return to Tacoma next Monday morning.

The national committee of New York left the committee this morning for his home and Representative William N. Vail will leave tonight for Denver.

Samuel Hill and a number of other prominent citizens of Seattle were to be called as witnesses today.

INFLUX MENACE: SPOPE
LOUISVILLE, Ky., July 29.—Specific action by the United States Government to solve the Japanese immigration question in California is deemed necessary by Congressman King Swope of Kentucky, who has just returned after an investigation on the Pacific coast as a member of the House committee on immigration.

Swope, as chairman of a sub-committee of the House committee, went deeply into conditions in California, and in a statement said:

"This country has reached a point where we should not permit any unassimilable race to fill up our Pacific states or any other state."

He said the entry of any or all Japanese should be predicated on "race ability and desire to become real, loyal, patriotic Americans."

Important legislation enacted by the next session of Congress will be based upon the committee's report when it assembles in Washington, he said.

JAPANESE DEFENDED
TACOMA, Wash., July 29.—Defense of the Japanese on the ground of their development of the small fruit and vegetable industry and contribution toward reducing the cost of living in the Northwest, were the features of the testimony given today by Willis R. Lebo, treasurer of a local fertilizer firm, who was the principal witness before the House immigration committee investigating the Japanese industry of the Pacific coast.

Lebo, whose testimony was declared by the committee to have given new angles to the investigation, stated that racial prejudice similar to that expressed in California could already be seen in this state and that "it is unfortunate that patriotism and love of country should be mixed with business" when the advent of the Japanese had been of inestimable benefit in the upbuilding of the Northwest.

STATISTICS GIVEN
Officers of the Tacoma Japanese Association introduced statistics showing the extent of Japanese land tenure, number of businesses, the population in Tacoma operated by them, population in the county and births of Japanese children in this section.

The session closed and will be resumed here Monday morning, the committee returning to Seattle, where hearings will be continued in the meantime.

SEN. HARDING AT BREAKFAST WITH 45 FROM CHICAGO

R. RAYMOND CLAPPER
United Press Staff Correspondent
MARION, O., July 29.—An active day of important conferences was scheduled for Warren G. Harding today.

He took breakfast at the Marion Club here with a delegation of forty-five Chicago business men, headed by Fred Upham, treasurer of the National Committee, and General N. W. MacChesney, formerly an active Wood man.

Later Harding was to see Leslie M. Shaw, formerly secretary of the treasury, and Colonel W. B. Warren, of Michigan, a Lowden worker at the Chicago convention.

Between appointments Harding hoped to get in some work on the

POLITICAL SPOTLIGHT

MARION, O., July 29.—Senator Harding is preparing an address for next Saturday. This will not be a major address. It was announced, but just a friendly talk to Ohioans.

CHICAGO, July 29.—J. R. McClure, executive secretary of the National Republican Congressional Committee, conferred with Senator New here today regarding assignment of speakers in the Congressional campaign. Miss Ida Bushof of Kentland, Ind., has been made executive secretary of the Women's committee.

DAYTON, July 29.—Work has been started at the Montgomery county fair grounds where the Convention ceremonies will be held on temporary structures. A sound amplifier will be placed in the speech to be delivered from the front porch Saturday to a delegation from Mansfield.

Judges stand on the race track from which the governor will speak.

DENVER, Colo., July 29.—Colorado Democrats opened their state assembly here today to designate candidates for the state-wide primary to be held in September. A movement was on foot early to have but one candidate for each office to enter the primary unopposed. James M. Collins, non-partisan, is a leading candidate for governor. Walter Walker, of Grand Junction, temporary chairman, lauded the administration and characterized the San Francisco convention as "the greatest political convention in fifty years."

MILWAUKEE, July 29.—Victor L. Berger, twice refused his seat in congress, is again a candidate from the fifth Wisconsin district. He will be opposed by a Republican.

WASHINGTON, July 29.—Army officers and others connected with the military establishment are prohibited under an order by Secretary Baker from taking "active part in political management or in political campaigns" or from "using their official position to influence the result of an election." Baker denied the order was aimed at Major General Leonard Wood, who has promised to support Harding.

GRAPES ARE BURNED
LOS GATOS, July 29.—Fire which swept across a vineyard on the country place of C. Vincent Riccardi, an attorney of San Francisco, threatened the fame of the San Jose waterworks, which supplies San Jose with water. Fire fighters from the Jesuit-Novitate and volunteers from town fought for two hours before the flames were under control. Five acres of grapevines were burned off.

G. O. P. at Saratoga Choose N. Y. Ticket

SARATOGA SPRINGS, July 29.—A state ticket, headed by Nathan L. Miller of Syracuse, for Governor, was recommended to Republicans by the unofficial Republican State Convention yesterday.

The convention voted to support U. S. Senator James W. Wadsworth Jr. for re-nomination. E. H. Hooker, former national treasurer of the Progressive party, opposed Senator Wadsworth.

Secretary of State P. M. Hugo, Jr., chief opponent, declared he would carry his fight into the September primaries.

Thompson of Niagara also will enter the primaries against Judge Miller.

"Endorsement of the Republican national platform, pieces of support to Harding and Coolidge, and a declaration for a League of Nations "with such reservations as shall protect the sovereignty and independence of the United States and always retain in Congress alone the power to declare war," are contained in the platform. The platform charged and condemned alleged Federal discrimination against the State of New York."

Women Democrats to Meet Tomorrow

The Women's Democratic Club of Alameda county will meet at 2:30 o'clock tomorrow afternoon in room 108, Hotel Oakland. At this meeting the plans for the Democratic presidential campaign will be made, and also arrangements for a reception to those who assisted in the luncheon given during the Democratic convention to the women visitors. Mrs. Carrie L. Hoyt, president of the club, will preside at tomorrow's meeting.

Wilson Expected Publicly To Hand Cox Party Sceptre

By HERBERT W. WALKER,
United Press Staff Correspondent.
DAYTON, Ohio, July 29.—President Wilson shortly after the notification of Governor Cox on August 7 will issue a statement acknowledging the nominee as the new party leader. It was reported in the Cox camp today.

Indications were this move will be discussed today by George White, chairman of the Democratic National Committee, with prominent Democrats in Washington. White was prepared to give the nominee's views. From reliable sources it was learned White and other close advisers of Cox are anxious for the President publicly to hand over the party reins.

Back of the move was the apparent belief that Republican leaders have initiated a propaganda campaign, the main theme being that the President, as a result of the White House conference with Cox, intends to dictate the nominee's policies. The recent meeting of the Democratic National Committee in Columbus excluded White House conference.

Unusual interest in Cox's speech of acceptance was shown by hundreds of telegrams and letters with suggestions. The speech virtually will be completed by Saturday and advanced to newspapers. But Cox said that one important section would not be re-typed until the morning of notification day.

In response to a second telegram from Parley P. Christensen, head of the Farmer-Labor party, asking that he join in a movement to secure the release from prison of Eugene V. Debs, Socialist candidate for President, Cox said he would reply after his notification speech.

WASHINGTON, July 29.—Governor Cox must be considered the new leader of his party, George White, Democratic national chairman, said here today.

He also said he had made no arrangements for a conference with President Wilson during his two-day stay in Washington, saying he had come here to take charge of party headquarters and meet Democratic leaders.

"I will call at the White House and pay my respects," he said.

White's statement on party leadership was in answer to Republican charges that Cox allowed President Wilson to dictate his policy on the League of Nations.

Democrat Chairman to Visit White House

WASHINGTON, July 29.—George White, national chairman, arrived here today to take over control of the Democratic national committee and to hold conferences with party leaders regarding presidential and congressional campaigns.

He probably will visit the White House.

White and Representative Flood of Virginia will decide at a conference whether the congressional committee or national committee will control matters affecting senatorial campaign and arrangements will be made as to division of party funds.

Baby Swallows Pin; Death Follows Soon

QUINCY, July 29.—Coroner Hogan has returned from Portola, where he was called to investigate the death of Helen Kilgore. His investigation showed the child had swallowed a pin on July 1 and was taken to Portola for medical attention by her parents from San Francisco. She died soon after arriving at Portola. The pin was found to have pierced her intestines. She was 26 months old.

General Wrangel to Safeguard All Jews

LONDON, July 29 (Jewish Telegraphic Agency).—General Wrangel, anti-Bolshevik commander in Southern Russia, is quoted by the press of the Crimea as assuring the Jews of Russia he will take every possible measure to protect them against pogroms, and that he will solve the Jewish question in a manner most satisfactory to the Jews after he has succeeded in establishing order, according to Copenhagen advices.

Murder Is Charged to Ohio 'Dry' Sleuth

SANDUSKY, Ohio, July 29.—A warrant charging murder in the first degree was issued for John Whitehead, federal prohibition enforcement agent of Toledo. He is accused of shooting and fatally wounding Jacob Hare, a former saloonkeeper of Huron, near here. The killing is said to have followed the officer's effort to enter the Hare home with a search warrant.

CAFES CRITICIZE LEAGUE LUNCHEONS

When the Alameda Housewives' League yesterday served 100 "one dollar" luncheons for 25 cents, the luncheon committee failed to include the cost of labor, rent, fuel and a few other things in the original cost of 19 cents per plate, according to restaurant owners and cafe proprietors who were asked why they could not serve a similar meal at the same price. The proprietors of two cafes declare the Housewives' League cannot serve the same menu, with the amount of food that is served in the restaurants, for 35 cents, the cost of labor, rent, fuel and other overhead not included. The menu which was served by the Housewives' League consisted of:

Fruit Punch
Fruit Salad a la Marseillaise
Sardine Sandwich
Macaroni Italiane
Liberty Steak
Hot Rolls and Butter
Banana Pudding
Coffee

To serve the same menu, allowing the customary quantity that is used in the average menu, would bring the actual cost of the meal to 35 cents, according to the restaurant men.

Adding the cost of labor, rent, fuel and other incidental expenses the actual cost to the restaurant would be in the neighborhood of 45 cents, without adding anything for profit, the cafe men claim.

Two restaurant proprietors stated that they charge $1 or more for such a meal. Three other restaurant owners stated that they would not consider charging any less than 75 cents, while still another said it was worth 85 cents.

PLUMBING TRUST CHARGED IN SUIT

SAN FRANCISCO, July 29.—A complaint was filed here today under the Cartwright anti-trust law against the Mark-Lally Company, a plumbing supply house. The Hercules Cement Products Company, plaintiff, alleges that the plumbing supply houses have formed a virtual trust by reason of a "gentleman's agreement" and that competition is vigorously opposed. This combination, it is alleged, tends to the manufacture, sale, purchase and transportation of plumbing supplies. Judgment in the sum of $1200 is asked.

The complaint recites that the defendant entered into an agreement with plaintiff to purchase some cement trays but refused to accept delivery, because the plaintiff was not a member of the alleged combination. Joseph E. Bleu, counsel for plaintiff, in discussing the action, said:

"My clients were told that they were 'outlaws' and they could not get the business. It was observed that the plaintiff was not a member of the combination until the material was manufactured. Of course that means my clients would be left with no goods, and would be forced, perhaps, to sell at the buyer's price. It is a matter of common knowledge in the trade that the plumbing supply people get together and fix up things in the trade. We are invoking the Cartwright act as covering such a situation alleged as being in restraint of trade in California."

CHARTER CHANGE SIGNERS SOUGHT

Volunteers have started out with initiative petitions for charter changes, intended to strengthen the city civil service system and to provide more authority for the Civil Service Board.

Since the charter prohibits civil service employees from participating in politics, the petitions will not be handled by municipal workers, but families and relatives of employees may obtain signatures to the petitions.

Signatures to the number of 15 per cent of the total vote cast at the last general election, or 6835, are necessary to sustain the petition. According to those circulating the document, more than 8274 will be obtained to allow for possible rejections.

Chandler, general manager of the Bethlehem shipyard; Frank McLean, assistant general manager of the Alameda shipyard; and E. Day, manager of the Alameda shipyard. H. J. EDITORIAL

Beginning August 1st, our store will close every evening at 9 o'clock, except Saturday evenings, when we will close at 10 o'clock.

The face creams put up by the Bowman Drug Company have such a steady, ever-increasing sale and are all so exceedingly popular with our customers that we feel sure their superior merit is being recognized.

Of course we carry all kinds of nationally advertised face creams and you can secure here almost any good face cream made in this country, but we honestly believe that the face creams put up under our own brands are so superior that you will be interested in trying them and after trying them, you will use them continually.

For example, our Theatrical Cold Cream, which sells at 75c a pound has many friends. This cream is guaranteed not to turn rancid and is used by many people as a facial cleanser.

Our Cucumber and Elder Flower Cream as a face cream is used to avoid chaps, sunburn, etc. This is a liquid cream and sells at 50c a bottle.

We also have another liquid cream which is used for similar purposes called "Bowman's Benzoin Cream," 25c and 50c. This cream is one of the most popular articles we have ever handled.

Proceda Cream is a liquid face powder, delicate and harmless and very popular. Price 50c.

KODAK FILMS DEVELOPED AS THEY SHOULD BE

You Always Get Better Results at Bowman's

The most interesting feature of our Kodak Department is the fact that we are able to get such successful results in the printing and developing of films taken by amateurs.

There are two ways of handling a large printing and developing business. One way is to take all of the films and put them in a batch together irrespective of their individual requirements and develop them in an uniform manner. The result is that some films are overdeveloped, others are underdeveloped, and the best results are not obtained in many cases.

The second method, is to take each film and develop it individually. In our shop, every film is handled on its own merits and developed according to its particular requirements, just as the photographer would do in his own shop.

Furthermore, each print is examined by an expert and if not as perfect as it is possible to make it, it is returned to be reprinted.

Many of our customers do not realize the pains we take in giving them good, clear prints, but between the time that they leave the roll with us, and the day that they receive their prints, a great deal of care and individual attention has been given their work. The result is, that we receive rolls from all over the United States from people who claim that they are unable to get results that compare favorably with the prints they receive at Bowman's.

This is one of the best all around household liniments that we know of and we recommend it highly.

Of course it is for external use only.

BOSTON BAGS

The handiest hand bag of all is the Boston Bag. We have an unusually large assortment of these commodious bags at prices ranging from $2.95 upwards.

Some of these bags are made of imitation leathers but they are exceedingly durable and very attractive.

For shopping or marketing or carrying various articles no hand bag equals them. They are also handy for carrying bathing suits, lunches, etc.

REAL OLD STYLE LIVER PILLS

Grandfather's Kind—Many People Still Use Them

How would you like to be able to buy a box of genuine old-fashioned liver pills?

We are now selling the same kind of liver pills that our store sold in Oakland nearly 45 years ago and even at that time they were considered to be old-fashioned liver pills.

We do not know how far back the original prescription for these pills dates, but we do know that they are of good quality to have kept them in steady demand for at least a half century.

When a prescription stands a test like that, it must be all right.

These old-fashioned liver pills are put up just exactly as they were made in 1875 and are of the same ingredients and of the same splendid quality that made them popular in the pioneer days. 25c a box.

A GOOD LINIMENT

If you are in the habit of using a liniment for the relief of the discomforts of rheumatism, pleurisy, sprains, chilblains, etc., you will be interested in knowing about Taylor's Concentrated Liniment, which sells at 50c a bottle at Bowman's.

This is one of the best all around household liniments that we know of and we recommend it highly.

Of course it is for external use only.

IMPORTED OLIVE OIL SOAP

How would you like to secure some pure, imported Spanish Olive Oil Soap?

This is real Castile soap, made in Spain and we believe that you will find it to be the finest olive oil soap you have ever tried. Each cake comes wrapped in tin foil, three cakes to a box. Price 50c a box.

THE BEST OF ALL HOT WATER BAGS, LYNWOOD BRAND

Last Longer and Cost Less

If two or more members of your family are ordered to bed by your physician, will you have hot water bags enough to go around?

Or do all of yours leak? We suggest that you count them up and test them out. If they need fixing and can be fixed (are not too old) then have them fixed.

If necessary, get new ones—by all means have them on hand for instant use.

The most economical hot water bag to buy is the Lynwood. The two-quart size costs $2.25.

These bags give longer wear than most bags costing more. They are extensively used by physicians and nurses who seem to favor them over all other hot water bags regardless of price.

It comes in jars or tubes at 25c and is one of the best articles of its kind for softening and beautifying the skin that we know of.

If you prefer a cold cream of a little better quality than the average theatrical cold cream, you will find what you want by asking for Bowman's Rose Cold Cream.

PEARLS' DEMAND
EXCEEDS SUPPLY

CHICAGO, July 29.—The arrival of New York of $500,000 worth of pearls from overseas caused quite a stir of excitement among dealers, as the largest importation in a long time. It would have attracted no attention in the days before the war, but the present world shortage of pearls, however, it was an event of importance.

The demand for pearls not only in the United States but throughout the world, is far above the ability of the trade to supply. This is due to a small output of the Indian ocean pearls, from which the best quality of pearls come. Few pearls of large size are being found. For large pearls the trade has depended for several years upon purchases from the Persian Gulf, but these have been sold at $150 to $250,000. Importers have to spend several months in the Persian Gulf to find such pearls.

The more expensive pearls of the Persian Gulf have turned attention to the fresh-water pearl supply. These pearls are found in the Mississippi valley. They are beautiful, but far inferior to Oriental pearls.

Uncle Wiggly Stories

by HOWARD R. GARDIN

Copyright, 1920, by McClure-Newspaper Syndicate.

One day, as Uncle Wiggly was sitting on the porch of the hollow stump, a muskrat, with Nurse Jane Fuzzy Wuzzy, the muskrat lady, housekeeper, said:

"Mr. Longears, if we had a few branches cut off that tree in the yard I could look out much farther and better and have a prettier view."

"Yes, I believe you could," agreed the muskrat lady, squinting along his pink, twinkling nose. "The tree branches are too thick. I'll get Mr. Sawfish, the carpenter, and have him saw off a few."

"I wish you would," said Nurse Jane. "The next day, Mr. Wiggly happened over to the duck pond ocean, and whistled to Jimmie Wiggles, the duck boy, who was sailing a boat with Bully No-Tail, the frog chap."

"Is Mr. Sawfish in his carpenter shop?" asked the duck boy gentleman. "Jimmie stuck his head down under water and looked for Mr. Sawfish."

"No," quacked the duck boy. "He isn't in Uncle Wiggly's yard. But if I do anything for you?"

"Nurse Jane wants to see her branches sawed off a tree in the yard so she can see under, and get a better view," quacked Mr. Longears. "But if Mr. Sawfish isn't in I don't know what to do."

"I can see some of his extra saws down in his shop," went on Jimmie. "If I brought you up one maybe you could saw the limbs off the tree yourself, Uncle Wiggly."

"Oh, maybe I could! I never thought of that," spoke the muskrat lady. "If the limbs were not so high up I could get Toodle or Noodle Fat-Tail, the beaver boys, to know them off for me. But they are not very good climbers. If I have a saw I can do it myself."

"Oh, maybe I could! I never thought of that," spoke the muskrat lady. "If the limbs were not so high up I could get Toodle or Noodle Fat-Tail, the beaver boys, to know them off for me. But they are not very good climbers. If I have a saw I can do it myself."

20,000,000 BEES MAKE HOME IN NEW YORK FLAT

NEW YORK, July 29.—When the friends of Caleb and Jocelyn Morales say that the two brothers have been in their upper story nothing is meant that is at all derogatory to the respective Morales establishments or cerebelli. As a matter of fact the Morales brothers have got bees in their upper story—20 million of them. They freely and gladly admit it and make no question of it whatsoever.

The upper story is the top floor of 823 West Two Hundred and Seventh street where the Morales brothers live. The million of them of them—shared the apartment with the Morales brothers during the cold weather. They are from Jamaica, these bees, and not used to snow and frost.

So are the Morales brothers from Jamaica, W. I. They are like Macadamia, for the sheer joy of it, bee fanciers that is, they have brought the wild bee to its last and by dint of long and close study of its idiosyncrasies they have found the answer to that vexing question pronounced some years ago by Beethoven: "What is the manner in which the bees make their home?"

WINTER IS VITAL ISSUE
The Morales brothers came from Jamaica some years ago and brought with them a few pounds of bees, in order to continue their studies of the interesting insects. Jocelyn Morales, who is an architect by profession, had raised bees for twenty-five years, and with his brother he established an apiculture last year at Seaman avenue and 15th street.

Of course, when cold weather arrived it became clear that something would have to be done about the bees. Winter underwear was out of the question, there being so many of the little fellows to provide for. Steam heat in the hives occupied by the millions of bees was also discarded as impractical. Every morning the Morales brothers would go out to see how many quarts of honey the bees had laid during the night, and they would find one or perhaps several of the little fellows lying at the front door of their hive with their toes turned up.

BEES IN FLATS
So the brothers brought the bees into their apartment. How they expected the bees would keep warm in a New York apartment in winter is a mystery. The Morales landlady must have been a paradox. So no wonder she else the furnace at 623 West Two Hundred and Seventh street must have been a self-starter, for the brothers say that the 20 million bees still live and have their bearings.

BEES MADE AT HOME
They stored the thirty hives all over the house, under the washbasins, on the dining room shelf and under the beds, and the Morales brothers declare that not once were they stung. As a matter of fact, Jocelyn can handle the bees without wearing veil and gloves. Winter underwear was out of the question, there being so many of the little fellows to provide for. Steam heat in the hives occupied by the millions of bees was also discarded as impractical. Every morning the Morales brothers would go out to see how many quarts of honey the bees had laid during the night, and they would find one or perhaps several of the little fellows lying at the front door of their hive with their toes turned up.

LORE OF TAHITI TO BE REVIVED

PAPEETE, Tahiti, July 29.—The ancient lore of Tahiti is to be resurrected and the ruins of the temples of the South Pacific Islanders, ordered destroyed by a century ago by Christian missionaries, are to be uncovered by excavation. Efforts to gather the relics of a forgotten worship are being vigorously prosecuted here.

Interest centers upon the great central temple of Marae at Atehuu, on Tahiti island, where human sacrifices were offered to the blood-thirsty god of war. "Oru," the name of the temple, has been completely buried under the ruins of the missionaries carried out that nothing remains save traces of the foundations of this extensive temple. Excavations are expected to bring to light some interesting objects, which, it is hoped, will reveal the purposes and uses of this ancient structure.

Marae, while being the chief temple, was not the oldest or the most important in the island. The temple at Opua, traces of which still remain on the island of Raiatea, was the sacred center of religion in the eastern Pacific and not until a stone from this had been incorporated in the structure did the Marae temple on Tahiti become consecrated.

It was at Marae that Captain Cook witnessed the ceremonies of human sacrifices chronicled in his "Voyages." The natives, while professing Christianity, and manifesting it by most active church attendance, have a fear of these places. Under no circumstances will they approach these temples at night, nor venture near them by day without great trepidation, believing that should they in any way offend the sleeping gods, vengeance will come.

Land Company Owes $4,000,000, Is Claim

RENO, July 29.—On application of the First National Bank of San Francisco, W. T. Smith has been appointed receiver of the Union Land and Cattle company by Judge Farrington of the United States district court at Carson City. The petition recited that the corporation owes the bank $4,000,000 and that the land company has debts totaling approximately $4,000,000.

The Union Land and Cattle company owns 100,000 acres of land in Nevada and is engaged in wool and livestock growing. Necessity of permitting the corporation to market its products and to prevent other attachments are given as reasons for the receivership.

LICENSE, RING BREAK COUPLE ABOUT TO WED

TOPEKA, Kan., July 29.—How much does the judge charge for performing the marriage ceremony? A bustling young man asked a clerk of the Probate Court after obtaining a marriage license.

"Three dollars for the ceremony," replied the clerk.
The boy consulted the prospective bride for a moment and announced:
"I guess we'll have to wait awhile. We bought a wedding ring and the license cost $3. I haven't any money left."

DRY LAW HITS 'SOAKED' TOADS

DENVER, July 29.—Gila monsters, spade-foot toads, snakes and lizards are among the latest sufferers from the scarcity of alcohol and the difficulty of securing it in Colorado. This was brought out at a meeting of the natural history branch of the State Historical society in Denver. Attention of the society has been called by a state museum visitor to the need of replenishing the alcohol used to preserve specimens of amphibious and other families, ranging in long rows of jars on the museum shelves. Earnest discussion of how to meet the problem ensued in the meeting.

In spite of careful covering of the jars, evaporation proceeds constantly and refilling of the containers is necessary. Swifts and snapping turtles, which were wholly submerged in the precious fluid, are now only "half soaked," and it was agreed that the condition demanded prompt attention.

Officers of the society said they realized the need of replenishing the evaporated alcohol, but were hampered by lack of funds and by the red tape incident to obtaining a sufficient quantity in these dry times. In view of the threatened deterioration of the exhibits, however, it was decided to authorize an adjustment of the funds that will make possible an emergency purchase of a supply of the spirits.

American Grins at Rent Jump in Paris

PARIS, July 29.—Recently the landlord with due apologies informed Captain F. W. C. Field, of Plattsmouth, N. Y., American Red Cross worker, that his rent was raised for the fourth time since 1918. Upon receiving the information, Captain Field chuckled at all of which is an unusual thing for a man to do under the circumstances, but the fact was that in spite of the fourth raise the American was spending less for rent than before the first boost came almost two years ago.

Results of the vagaries of exchange between French and American money. In 1918 Captain Field contracted for the room at four francs per day. At that time he was receiving five francs and forty-five centimes for every dollar in salary. His rent, therefore, was something like seventy-two cents per day. Every season a new raise came along until the landlord set him at seven francs a day. The exorbitant figure of seven francs at the rent after May 1 this year, Captain Field is now receiving, according to the exchange of May 1, seventeen francs for every dollar, and his new rent reaches the total of forty-two cents instead of seventy-two, although it has been nearly doubled.

St. Paul Fight Lost by Western Women

ST. PAUL, Minn., July 29.—Western delegates to the annual convention of the National Federation of Business and Professional Women's Clubs suffered a setback in their fight for control of the convention when the executive committee reversed its former decision to allow voting of proxies from organizations other than those represented by delegates.

Trotzky Says Poland Bridge for Europe

BERLIN, July 29.—Leon Trotzky, addressing a congress of Russian railway employees, is quoted in wireless despatches from Moscow as saying:

"Events show that Poland soon will be no longer a hindering buffer state for us, but will become a bridge for the social revolution of the whole of Western Europe."
"For that reason the Entente feverishly is increasing her aid. We, on our part, must triple our efforts to place the Entente before an accomplished fact, the final annihilation of white Poland, even before the Entente has sent its corps to Poland."

Polka-dot Ties Are Latest in Fashion

NEW YORK, July 29.—Blue polka-dot neckties are mere man's latest fashion craze. Haberdashers reported that the demand for dotted blue "bat wings" eclipsed any run in recent years. The craze is due, they declare, to the appearance of graphs which show Sir Thomas Lipton, the famous Englishman, and Senator Warren G. Harding, the Republican candidate, wearing the tidy "bat wings."

Dog House in Zion, Pastor Is Arrested

NEW YORK, Aug. 1.—The Rev. Dr. John Buddis, colored, was held in $500 bail when arraigned in Flatbush Court, Brooklyn. He was ousted by the board of trustees of the Jones African Methodist Episcopal Zion church, of which he was pastor, because the board objected to his raising dogs on the church premises. The pastor came back to the church and, it is alleged, gained entrance by breaking locks on the door.

GIRL QUILTS JOB, EMPLOYEES

PITTSBURGH, Pa., July 29.—Annoyed because Miss Ruth Porter Hopkins, his stenographer, quit her position without giving due notice, William H. Johnson, an attorney, stopped payment of a check of $44 given her in payment of wages and entered suit against the young woman for $255, the amount he says he lost when compelled to remain at his office until he could engage another typist.

Johnson alleges that he had a verbal contract with Miss Hopkins to the effect that should either of them decide to conclude their business relations two weeks' notice should be given. He states that he went to his office on July 6, and there found a note from Miss Hopkins announcing that she had resigned her position. He immediately called on her and demanded that she give him two weeks' notice. She refused to do so, and he thereupon stopped payment of the check. Johnson attempted to stop payment on this check, but it had already been cashed. However, Miss Hopkins was forced to return the money. Consulting an attorney, she filed suit against Johnson for the $44. The attorney, making a counter attack, brought suit against her for $255, the amount he says he lost because he was compelled to remain in his office until he could find a typist to replace Miss Hopkins.

Mingo County Miners' Wage Fight Has Cost Lives of 12

WILLIAMSON, W. Va., July 29.—The campaign of the United Mine Workers to organize the 5000 miners in the Mingo county bituminous coal field has precipitated a situation which each side declares can only end when it has won complete victory. In the conflicts growing out of this move 12 or more persons have lost their lives. Wages, apparently, form a secondary consideration, the battle being waged around recognition of the union and the right of mine owners to employ private detectives in and around the mines.

The men and the operators could get together and settle this thing were it not for the question of the mine guards, said Charles T. Keeney, president of District No. 17, United Mine Workers, who is in command of the union forces. "But in their present temper these men are not to be fooled with. Right now this situation is a powder mill."

There is not a mine guard in Mingo county and there has not been for years, said George Bausewine, secretary of the Coal Operators' Association, of Williamson. "Private detectives are employed as other corporations employ detectives for intelligence work in and around their properties. They are not used for guarding the mines."

QUESTION OF WAGES
The question of wages hinges on the scale paid in the Kanawha field. The union leaders declare that adoption of this scale would increase the earnings of the miners in Mingo, while the operators insist that their miners, under the scale now in force, are being paid more than it is possible for the Kanawha miners to earn. However, little attention is being paid to that phase of the controversy. Recognition of the union is the big issue.

The Mingo field includes all of Mingo county and the mines along the Kentucky side of Tug river, a shallow narrow stream which for miles in this region forms the boundary between Kentucky and West Virginia. High mountains rise abruptly on each side of the river, their sides covered with a heavy growth of bushes. Along the mountain sides are the drift mines from which comes the coal, and nesting in the narrow valley are the little towns where live the miners and their families.

NATIVE BORN MINERS.
Fully 75 per cent of the miners in the region are native born, many of them the descendants of pioneers who entered the county more than 100 years ago, and who are proud of their lineage. Some foreign-born miners can be found in the camps, while numbers of negroes are employed. Often the miner owns a small acreage, for which in the planting and harvesting, he will abandon the mines.

In some places the miners live in brick cottages, each having its garden plot and front porch. Such a village is Bordertown, where early this month miners were freed upon from the mountainside while going to work. In other villages the houses are of such frame construction, each set in its own garden plot, and for which the mines pay at the rate of two dollars per month per room.

Williamson, the center of the region, is pleasantly placed in the valley, with substantial buildings and good stores. The Mingo county court house is one of the best structures, but the city hall also is a complete office building, while there is in course of construction a theater which will cost $250,000. The 5000 residents of the town very generally enjoy the prosperity which has come to the coal trade in the past few years.

MOVE TO ORGANIZE.
Early in the year the movement to organize the United Mine Workers was inaugurated by President Keeney from district headquarters at Charleston, and organizers were sent into Mingo county. They met with such success that a demand was made upon the operators for the enforcement of the Kanawha scale and recognition of the union. This demand the operators refused, and the union called a strike. The order, mine operators say, was answered by from 1500 to 1800 miners, but the union officials put the figure higher.

The companies, through their lawyers, took the position that the houses built for the miners had gone on strike, reverted at once to the owners.

The miners, in some instances, held that if the companies wanted the house of a man they must obtain possession of it by due process of law.

Numbers of miners were evicted from company houses, and it was for that purpose private detectives,

Beer Openly Hauled About in St. Louis

ST. LOUIS, July 29.—If thirty St. Louisans knew that 140,000 barrels of 6 per cent was being transported through the streets of the city, day and night, in two large auto water wagons, the drivers would have lots of company.

The beer is ice cold, too, and has been aged for two years, making it just delicious, it is said, but it will soon be in the class of beverages de-alcoholized.

The "water wagons" are running from the Wainwright brewery, Eighteenth and Gratiot streets, to the Independent Brewers' company, 2828 South Broadway. Each truck carries 48 barrels at a load and in order to accomplish the removal from one brewery to another and comply with the permit issued by the government, it has been necessary to keep both trucks going night and day. The alcohol is being extracted at the Alpen Brau plant.

"mine guards" the miners term them, were sent to Mattawan, June 19, and where in the fight which followed the eviction of five families, 10 persons were killed.

Many miners, however, moved from company houses without protest, and the United Mine Workers established for such persons tent colonies along Tug river near the places of their former employment. There the strikers and their families live in army tents, and there they declare they will stay until the strike has been settled and they have returned to work.

BAGGAGE LOSING TOLD BY AGENT

KANSAS CITY, July 29.—A certain union station official is considering putting on the market a book of instructions on how to lose baggage.

One of the best methods, he believes, is to stroll into the lobby, drop the bag to the floor and wander about absent-mindedly. Almost invariably someone is interested enough to pick up the bag and walk off with it.

Almost as efficient, he believes, is to leave luggage in care of a total stranger in the waiting room while one buys a ticket, or eats lunch. If the stranger is honest he is quite likely to be called away, and if he is not honest the process is still further simplified.

Another good way is to place a bag near a pile of luggage belonging to another party. When they leave, they are very likely to take the extra bag without noticing.

If persons desiring to lose baggage will be careful to place it behind them when waiting at the ticket windows instead of placing it on the racks provided for the purpose, someone is likely to take it away. And, of course, the man who leaves his baggage on a seat in the waiting room and steps into the basket lunch is an almost sure loser.

Norway Blacklists

German Merchants
CHRISTIANIA, July 23.—A blacklist of German firms charged to have broken contracts with Norwegian merchants is being prepared by the Christiania Chamber of Commerce and will be published as a warning to Norwegian firms to be careful of doing deals in Germany. The Christiania Chamber of Commerce now has under consideration names of 70 German firms against whom complaints have been made that they broke contracts, particularly because of an unfavorable rate of exchange. It is understood German chambers of commerce are co-operating with the Norwegian firms to force the German firms to fulfill their contracts.

BRITON SCORES

JONES SHIP BILL

LONDON, July 23.—The Jones bill, characterized as "America's bid for shipping supremacy," is denounced by the shipping expert of the Sunday Observer as "reluctant and discriminatory."
He declares that the war has taught other nations the importance of owning a mercantile marine and that jealousy has been aroused throughout the world by the "ability and magnificence" of the British mercantile establishment. "In two countries," he asserts, "in particular, the feeling of most bitter jealousy against our mercantile marine. These two countries are France and the United States."
The writer declares that there is nothing to which foreigners can object in the principal provisions of the Jones bill insofar as it is intended to coordinate the transport resources of the United States with the shipping resources of the United States. He says, however, that the bill is intended to impose the most drastic forms of returns, "which are based absolutely upon the methods of the German insurance companies, against which America herself protested so bitterly previous to her entry into the war."
"These have been devised admittedly for the purpose of insuring every lot of business transacted by foreign companies with a view to passing the same on to American concerns. The object of course is that, having this information, the government may oust the American company entirely to assist British insurance."

CLAUSES DISCRIMINATE

He says, however, that some of the clauses of the bill were intended to be discriminatory against Great Britain and Japan. Among these he mentions those which authorize preferential treatment to American vessels in American ports. The insurance provisions of the bill, he says, impose the most drastic forms of returns, "which are based absolutely upon the methods of the German insurance companies, against which America herself protested so bitterly previous to her entry into the war."
"These have been devised admittedly for the purpose of insuring every lot of business transacted by foreign companies with a view to passing the same on to American concerns. The object of course is that, having this information, the government may oust the American company entirely to assist British insurance."

BETTER COMPETITION

"In the same vein is the clause which waives in favor of American insurance companies, the Sherman anti-trust law. This is entirely on a par with the methods employed by the shipping board during the war, when it transpired the confidential information given to the shipping board solely for the purpose of the war was being used to enable American shipping to defeat British shipping after the war."
"We in this country now know that the most bitter competition for the supremacy of the seas which we have ever had to meet. We are in for a big fight, but before America can win the fight she must create a national feeling for a mercantile marine. She must prepare to pay considerably higher freight and insurance rates on all she imports and exports and she must be willing to forego profits on her shipping enterprises for many years. The person who is most willing to feel the pinch of America's ambitions will be the American exporter."

GRAIN 'HOSPITAL'

EARN ITS COST

MOOSE JAW, Sask., July 23.—Exacted in 1915 at the cost of $1,350,000, the hospital grain elevator here, the first to be erected in Western Canada, has saved for the farmers of this province more than three times what it cost.
Prior to its construction all grain that got damp and tough, or in any way requiring attention and treatment at a grain hospital, had to be taken half across the continent to Fort William. The structure at Moose Jaw is right in the heart of the great grain harvest.
With a present normal capacity of 3,500,000 bushels, the elevator is so arranged that additional accommodations for a total capacity of 10,000,000 bushels can be built at small cost, merely by the erection of additional storage tanks.
Chemists and expert "grain doctors" are constantly meeting and making tests to determine the best methods of combating moisture and other peculiarities of grain. These are proving of the greatest value to the farmers.
The drying plant has a capacity of 2000 bushels of damp grain per hour, or more than 750,000 bushels per month. Since it began operations it has handled, dried, cleaned and distributed more than 5,000,000 bushels for seed purposes.

Japan Suffering

In Shipping Slump

TOKYO, July 23.—Features of the economic depression in Japan is the weakness of the steamship charter market. About fifteen large ocean-going ships are tied up at Kobe and Osaka, and about fifty others are lying idle in the harbor. Owners of old charter contracts. Owners will have great difficulty in finding new contracts on account of the slump in the sea-carrying trade.
With the accompanying depression in the shipping market, the prices of ships has declined, the present standard quotation being equivalent to $135 to $140 a ton. In spite of the decline there have been no sales at home for some time past, but some vessels are being sold to Dutch concerns.

AN UNCAUGHT BUTTERFLY

By Herbert Jackson

Copyright 1920, by Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.
It is the chase as much as the conquest that is enjoyed—the chase after fame or even butterflies. But when one who has caught every butterfly listed in the lexicons of science, blithely puts a new specimen on a sunny afternoon and is so deeply immersed in this pursuit that he doesn't see a human—well, you know, not all the uncaught butterflies have wings. Their beauty lies in their faces and in their unconquered hearts which only the power of true love can capture.

COWPUNCHER, 93,

RIDES AT RODEO

SALINAS, July 23.—The wild, wild west in all its wooliness has come back to life again here today with the ninth annual California Rodeo.
Daring cowboys in many colored shirts, nimble cow girls, ferocious bulls and the very meanest things in horse flesh are flashing across a scene set to breathe the spirit and color of the old days.
Vaqueros, who make the wildest things on hoofs eat out of their hands, are here aplenty to show the visitors what it takes to ride a horse, and loads of horseflesh that hitherto has recognized no taming are here to make some of these buckaroos get up and hustle.
From the hills and valleys have come the ranchmen from all parts of the state have come those who love the wild west show in its native lair. Salinas looks like a moving picture town all set up for to film a forty-nine.

Honest Advertising

THIS is a topic we all hear now-a-days because so many people are inclined to exaggerate. Yet has any physician told you that we claimed unreasonable remedial properties for Fletcher's Castoria? Just ask them. We won't answer it ourselves, we know what the answer will be. That it has all the virtues to-day that was claimed for it in its early days is to be found in its increased use, the recommendation by prominent physicians, and our assurance that its standard will be maintained.
Imitations are to be found in some stores and only because of the Castoria that Mr. Fletcher created. But it is not the genuine Castoria that Mr. Fletcher honestly advertised, honestly placed before the public, and from which he honestly expects to receive his reward.

Genuine Castoria always bears the signature of

S. J. BOWLERS IN

RACE WITH S. F.

SAN JOSE, July 23.—The San Jose Elks' Class B bowling team is now tied with Alameda for second place in the Lewis Trophy race and is only three games behind San Francisco as a result of three straight victories. An unusual feature in connection with the two Elks' leagues is that the San Francisco Class B team, which is competing for the Lewis trophy, has a better average than the Class A San Francisco team which is shooting for the Letman trophy. The Class B team average is $90 and the Class A average is $84. San Jose holds all of the records, both team and individual, in the Class A League. Their team average is $36 a game, high series is 2955 and high game is 1038. Red Smith has the high individual score of 255 while Arnerich has the high series. Arnerich also leads the league for individual average with close to 200.
ELKS PLAY SUNDAY
The San Jose Elks' league will play their fourth league game Sunday when they line up at Sodality park in this city against the San Jose Elks' league.

HISTORIC TABLES SAVED

PALO ALTO, July 23.—Beating the carved signatures of hundreds of former Stanford University students, many of whom later became figures of national prominence, twenty soft pine table tops were taken to the home of Joseph Larkin when the Hotel Larkin, of which he was the proprietor, changed hands yesterday. The pine tops originally were part of the equipment at Charles Meyer's old roadhouse, much patronized by students, which was established in 1892.

SAN JOSE, July 23.—A union wage for criminals who would be employed in penitentiary factories manufacturing products which could be sold by the state was advocated by Charles Brandon Booth, son of the Salvation army founder, in an address to the Rotary Club. A part of the earnings of each convict would be devoted to the support of the man's family under Booth's plan.

BUILDING BEGINS

SAN JOSE, July 23.—Construction work began today on a new wing for the San Jose High school building, to cost $100,000, and on additions costing $20,000 to the Lowell and Horace Mann schools. The work is the first of a $700,000 building program for the city schools for which bonds were voted a few months ago. The plans include the erection of a polytechnic department for the high school on San Fernando street, between Seventh and Eighth. Contractors bidding on their work were required to take their pay in bonds and to add 1 per cent in order to bring the bond interest from 5 to 6 per cent, the securities being unsaleable at the lower

THURSDAY, JULY 29, 1920

BRITAIN AND OIL MONOPOLY.

Hon. Franklin K. Lane of California, formerly Secretary of the Department of the Interior and at present connected with a large oil company doing business in the United States and Mexico, was asked to contribute an article to the Fourth of July edition of the London Times. Britain's great daily newspaper, which comes as near as any other journal to being the official organ of the British government. Mr. Lane responded with admirable and characteristic frankness. In fact, he was studiously frank, asserting that plain speaking was the best way to avoid misunderstanding. Some Britishers probably will think he was provocatively honest.

But Mr. Lane, we believe, has rendered a real service by his discussion of the world oil situation and the reported aims of Great Britain with reference to that situation. He writes of British ambitions to dominate the world oil supply by acquiring control of at least seventy per cent of the producing oil wells and undeveloped known oil fields. When he speaks of an empire going into business he sounds a warning not to England alone, but to governments elsewhere. Yet his warning is more apposite when addressed to England, for it is the British government that is behind the scheme for oil control and which is obtaining control itself by ownership of corporation shares, trade regulations and orders in council. To quote Mr. Lane directly:

"May I put the matter in its simplest concrete form? If England secures control of the petroleum market, or is thought to have, and the price of gasoline rises to one dollar a gallon—what might be the result? At that time—will it be well that the farmers and the truckmen and the 10,000,000 users of motors in the United States have it to say that England is doing this? Not a group of English capitalists, but the political State: England the Government; England itself the oil magnate? Or let us assume that the United States adopted this plan of nation against nation in business, and that we saw an opportunity to gain control of the rubber plantations of the world, or the sugar, tea, or coffee plantations, and made the effort to gain such control as would secure ourselves against shortage, and incidentally make the United States government the master of any one of these lines of production, would such a plan promote peace or war?"

Indeed here is a serious aspect to the problem of nationalization of an industry which supplies a vital product to the peoples of the earth.

Let us dwell momentarily upon the possibility of England securing control of the world's oil supply and the sources of production and then seeing the price of gasoline rise to $1 a gallon and fuel oil, necessary to the operations of deep sea freight carrying ships, to $10 a barrel. It would count for very little in popular anger that the increases might be justified. The people of the United States would not be alone in their protest; every people compelled to pay England's price for petroleum products would feel that they were being outraged by a conscienceless and profit-taking alien government.

Reverse the situation, as Mr. Lane suggests, and let the United States be the government to control the monopoly. The menace to popular tranquility and world peace would be just as serious. Government deserves and commands respect so long as it benefits and protects the people under it. Should it become the exploiter of the people it stands no higher in the popular regard than the private profiteer and extortioner.

Mr. Lane has an idea for working out the oil problem as it exists between nations. While he fears the consequences should oil become an international political issue, he assures his British audience that American enterprise is not afraid to meet the challenge of the new situation as a problem in economics. On the level of pure economics it would meet the problem with confidence and a spirit of fair play and sportsmanlike consideration.

American enterprise does not ask the government for capital, he says. It is quite confident that it can find a sufficient supply of oil abroad if given the countenance of the government's protection for the rights which it lawfully secures abroad. There is no feeling whatever that Englishmen are not entitled to adventure into this field anywhere and everywhere and "make their adventuresome spirit once more tell for the great profit of England."

But when it comes to an empire not being content with developing its own lands but ambitious and scheming to reach around the world into other countries for properties that is different. An empire gaining power over the industries and commerce of all countries through the exploitation and financing of the resources of other countries!

These observations of a distinguished American statesman who always has coveted the honor of making contributions to international amity, probably will not influence significantly the hard-headed British government, if that government really has set its mind on a world oil monopoly. But they should draw attention to the very dangerous shoals ahead of such a policy.

WHILE POLAND'S FRIENDS FIDDLE.

AS THE TRIBUNE warned, the Russian Bolsheviks have not respected the armistice to the war with Poland to which they agreed. Fighting has been renewed all along the Polish front, with the Red armies penetrating deep into Galicia.

As the Bolsheviks enter Poland and approach nearer to the German frontier, the situation becomes more critical. Germany has recovered much of her love for order and discipline which she came near losing in the winter of 1918, but a Bolshevik contact with the Spartacists, Independent Socialists and other German radicals, will be fraught with the gravest danger to the stability of the German government.

Should Germany turn Bolshevik, and the danger of such a thing is very real, anarchy may flame up all over central Europe. Italy, Spain and Portugal might be drawn into the maelstrom. The Allied governments are conscious of the menace to the world that rides with the Bolshevik attack on Poland. Will they act?

AMERICA AGAIN VICTOR.

Once again American skill or luck has triumphed in an international sporting event. The Yankee yacht "Resolute" yesterday defeated the cup challenger Shamrock, which Sir Thomas Lipton brought across to represent his fourth attempt to lift the premier yachting trophy from American hands.

There will be much rejoicing among the limited number of persons of the East who were privileged to witness the seven trials which the Resolute and Shamrock engaged in, and there will be a sense of gratification in every sport-loving citizen, whether he saw the races or not, that America's defender won.

It was a more thrilling contest than any preceding international yacht race. The Resolute lost the first trial through an accident that put her out of the running at the halfway mark, and the second because the Shamrock outdistanced her in a stiff breeze. Then she "came from behind" and won the next three approved races. This is the kind of a performance that speeds the blood and gives rise to manifestations which some persons style boasting.

For the defeated challenger there is nothing but admiration and the highest acknowledgment of his sportsmanship. Sir Thomas Lipton also exhibited a high-hearted regard for a friend which is an additional commendation. The first two trials demonstrated that the skipper of the Shamrock was deficient in seamanship and there were urgent appeals that he be displaced. But the Shamrock's owner, recoiling from anything that would wound the feelings or hurt the reputation of his captain, declined. There are many who always will maintain that thereby he lost the contest.

The seamanship of Captain Adams of the Resolute was an outstanding feature of the races. Time and again he demonstrated his superior skill and knowledge. Counting the races cancelled because of failure to finish within the prescribed time, he actually outdistanced the Shamrock's skipper five times out of seven, and one of the two lost races was due to a broken halyard.

Staging yacht races is a rich man's game. Only a few thousand of the more prosperous citizens are able even to view them. But in the testing of design and seamanship, in the spirit of friendly rivalry they provoke and the popular interest they arouse between nations, they have a certain usefulness. Sporting contests may be more beneficial to international friendship than the ablest diplomacy.

A SURRENDER OF BURLESON'S.

Postmaster General Burleson has been driven from a position that was entirely indefensible. He has been forced to recognize the fact that men do not become incapacitated for useful work in accordance with any one rule of law. When the act providing for the retirement of government employees was passed, Congress, after fixing the retirement age, wisely inserted a provision that the Civil Service Commission, upon certification of the proper departmental authorities, should have authority to postpone retirement in the case of men anxious to serve longer and capable of doing so. This was not only an act of justice to faithful employees but it was also clearly the course of common sense with regard to efficiency in the conduct of the government's business.

But the Postmaster General, with his accustomed perversity, promptly announced that he did not agree with this provision of the law. He pictured it as opening the way to the retention of men who were tottering under the weight of years. Therefore, Mr. Burleson declared that he would have none of it. The protest was prompt and vigorous. The idea that every man in the service must be retired at the age of sixty-five years, regardless of his fitness for his job and his desire to hold it, was so palpably absurd that the Postmaster General could not successfully defend the stand he had taken. Now he has modified his order. The floor is open for the retention of valued employees who want to serve. Mr. Burleson is willing that they should stay two years longer. And if, in the case of some of these men, it is thought desirable to secure the necessary authority to keep them in the service after two years have passed, it is safe to say that Mr. Burleson will not be in a position to interfere.—Boston Transcript.

NOTES and COMMENT

Prohibition has resulted in many innovations, not the least interesting of which is a pipe line for grape juice. That is what is projected at San Jose, where the vats of a big brewery are to be utilized for the storing of Mr. Bryan's favorite beverage. Incidentally there is a slant here as to the reason for the high price of wine grapes. The grape-juice industry is growing into one of proportions.

William Kent has "apologized" for his attempt to be funny in his celebrated pension bill. His later action is handicapped by the fact that the apology is belated several years, and is forthcoming now for the reason that he is appealing for votes. It was condemned by Grand Army posts and made the subject of animadversion at the time it was promulgated—the same as it is now without eliciting anything resembling an apology from its author.

Villa having retired from his absorbing industry, Mike can now turn his attention to something else. For the menace of this very competent brigand, and the turmoil resulting from imitators, have been more than equal to the country's pacifying efforts during seven years. It looks that Mexico had at last struck bottom.

Governor Coolidge has been notified of the purpose of the American people to advance him to a higher station, and has uttered a few well chosen remarks (not too many) in response. If he has at least been demonstrated that the Republican candidates are capable of saving the appropriate thing when the occasion arises.

Bringing 200,000 gallons of gasoline from Oklahoma comes nearer exemplifying the adage, "Carrying coals to Newcastle," than any of the later instances that have been cited. The adage is a very old one. It is doubtful if it could have been invented in the age of railroads.

Kansas City's way of settling controversies over the milk supply is to arrest milkmen who refuse to deliver milk because of dissatisfaction with the rate. That is a new method in controversies involving food products. It places the welfare of the community distinctly above commercial considerations.

The selling of oil by the Government because the owners of it would not sell at the price fixed by the buyer would only be possible in time of war. This is a time of war—at least, the United States has not concluded peace with Germany—and hence the commandeering. It is not a healthy state of affairs.

The Seattle man who would import 1,000,000 Japanese to clear logging lands in Washington and Oregon is outstripping all other advocates of the Japanese by a good many points. A million Orientals brought into the country for any purpose is about as startling a proposition as could be conceived.

At least, Mr. Jack Johnson may be considered a stand-off to Mr. William Brock Lloyd. Johnson would rather be in jail in this country than free in any other, and Lloyd threatens to emigrate to Russia to live because of the tyranny he finds here.

If it hadn't been desirable to win the yacht race ourselves there would have been a widespread desire to see Sir Thomas Lipton win it. He is the champion good loser of the age, and threatens to come again with Shamrock V.

An interesting detail of the yacht race was the tug with the garbage scows in tow getting in the course of the races. It may have been an instance of the sublime and the ridiculous, but it was a juxtaposition of highly contrasting extremes.

The News tells of the excitement at Red Bluff over the yacht race. "The excitement in Red Bluff over the yacht race is at summer heat. A lady called up the office yesterday to enquire where the boats got their gasoline."

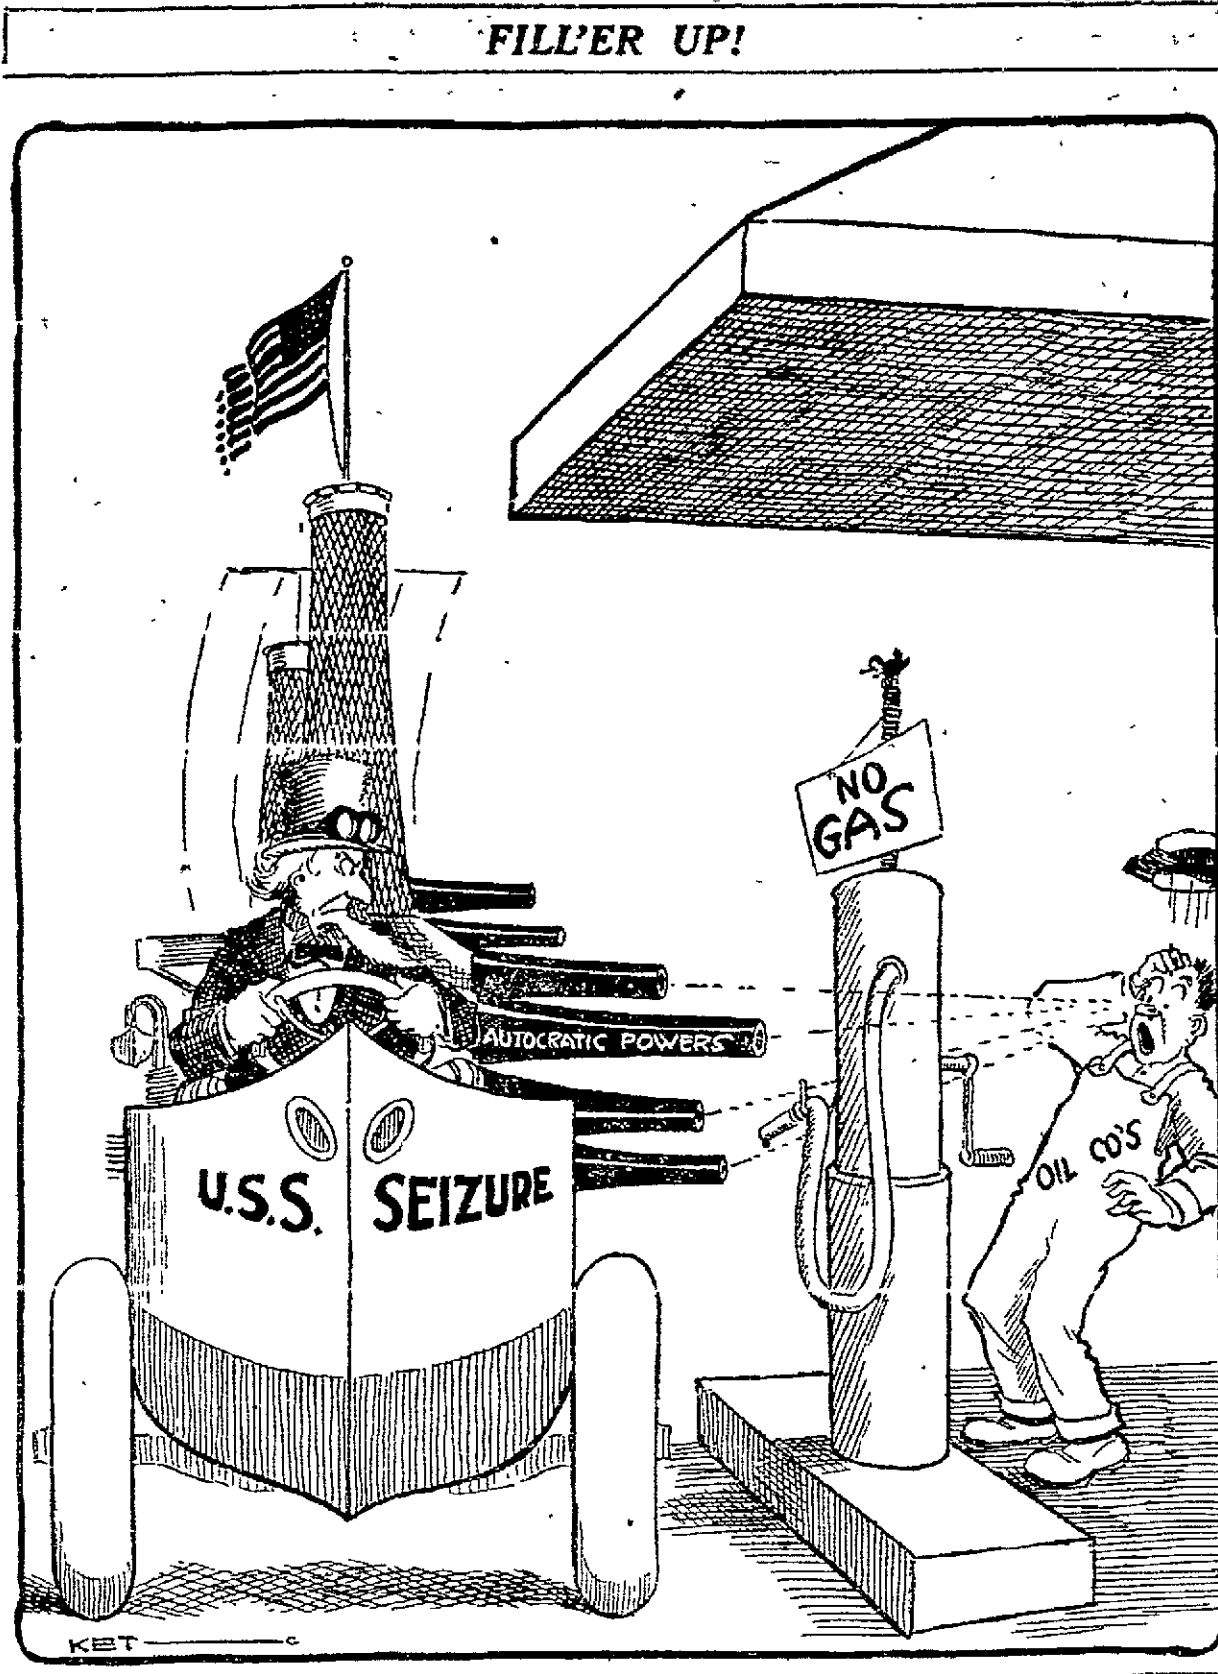

The Redding "Searchlight" gives an interesting detail: "Most of the noise in the Los Angeles earthquake was made by diners dropping their trays and rushing to the sidewalk."

SPIRIT OF THE STATE PRESS

John E. Rosseter of the Wikup Ranch, near Santa Rosa, has sold Inchepe, the great two-year-old trotter, to Samuel C. Hildreth of New York for $150,000. Hildreth first offered $50,000 for the trotter, then increased the offer to $100,000 and a few days ago came back with another offer of $150,000. He also made an offer of a similar amount for Friar Rock, sire of Inchepe, but Rosseter refused to accept the latter offer.—Cloverdale Reville.

Some of the political writers of the state in trying to make capital of the fact that the Sacramento Union is supporting Cox, speak of that paper as nominally Republican. Since when has it been Republican, we might ask? Surely not since its present management had control. As long ago as 1912, before Wilson was nominated the first time, the Union came out along in support of his candidacy, and from that time to the present it has been a most ardent supporter of Wilson and the Democratic administration. That is what we would call a hell of a Republican.—Calaveras Prospect.

BITUMINOUS COAL PRODUCTION

Two Strikes in Past Year Decreased Production At Least 60,000,000 Tons—Production in the First Half of This Year Is Greater Than Last Year But Below 1918 and 1917.

By DR. FRANK M. SURFACE.

WASHINGTON, July 26.—The coal production of the United States has been seriously affected by two strikes within the past year. The first of these was the strike of the bituminous miners on the first of November, 1919. During October, 1919, the production of bituminous coal, as reported by Dr. Tyson of the Geological Survey, was running over 2,000,000 tons per day. For the week ending October 25, 1919, the production was at the rate of 2,186,000 tons per day, the largest tonnage of coal ever loaded in the history of the country.

The general strike of some 400,000 miners went into effect on November 1 and the daily average production for the first week ending November 3 was 592,000 tons, or less than 30 per cent of the normal production. In spite of the government injunction and the claims made by the operators, no very marked improvement in production actually occurred until after the middle of December. For the week ending December 13 the average daily production was 967,000 tons, or 48 per cent of normal.

At a conservative estimate the coal strike decreased the yearly production by at least 40,000,000 tons. In other words, because of the strike this country is the poorer by the value of goods which 40,000,000 tons of coal would produce.

From the middle of December production increased rapidly and at the beginning of January, 1920, exceeded the 2,000,000 ton per day mark. Owing to the inability of the mines to get back to the production declined to about 1,750,000 tons per day during February and March.

In the early part of April the switchmen's strike caused the production to drop to an average of 1,250,000 tons for the week ending April 11, a decrease of about 80 per cent. Since that time production has gradually increased until it reached about 1,750,000 tons per day in the early part of June. This strike with its related coal shortage has cost the country some 20,000,000 tons of coal which might have been produced had it not occurred.

The total production of bituminous coal during the first six months of 1920 has been 257,000,000 tons, compared with 213,500,000 tons in the same period last year, 231,700,000 in 1918 and 272,000,000 in 1917. The production for the present half year is 44,000,000 tons above last year, but 25,000,000 tons below 1918.

Compared with last year it would appear that our present production was satisfactory, but this does not tell the whole story. In the first part of 1919 our industries were reeling from the effect of the war production. Large readjustments had to be made in manufacturing plants and many had to be re-modelled for peace production. On this account there was a smaller demand for manufacturing coal. In the present year the demand is large but the coal cannot be produced.

In the early months of 1919 the total amount of full time production lost amounted to about 45 per cent. Of this 35 to 40 per cent was caused by lack of demand and only 5 or 8 per cent by car shortage. For 1920 the total loss averages nearly 50 per cent of full time capacity, but 55 to 60 per cent of the total loss is caused by car shortage and

FILLER UP!

A SONG.

Sing, heart, like a bird, without fear,
 Then be still!
 For my love hastens over the hill,
 And I hear
 In his haste all the passion my heart may fulfill.

Ah, now he draws nearer, I go
 Half oppressed
 By the song of my heart in its nest;
 Yet I know
 In the joy of his presence my heart will find rest.

For I, who long dreamed, at his call
 Now awake,
 And the shy heart he captures
 could break
 In its thrall,
 Ere the whirl of the years into dust for his sake!

FOR REVISED ARITHMETIC.
 Arithmetic is supposed to be a matter-of-fact study, but the school arithmetics now in use are full of romance. They need immediate revision if this most practical and important branch of learning is to be kept in touch with the realities of life.
 For example, what respect can a modern boy or girl have for a textbook which propounds so absurd a problem as the following:
 If a dozen eggs cost 27 cents, how many may be bought for $1.39?
 If a quart of milk at 6 cents a quart produces four ounces of butter, what will be the profit on five pounds of butter at 35 cents a pound?
 Or this:
 If five men, working ten hours
 a day, earn a total of $75 in six days, how much will seven men working eleven hours a day earn in three days?
 An arithmetic that was up to date would contain problems like the following:
 If gasoline costs 28 cents a gallon and silk shirts $15 apiece, at what rate must a brokerage be paid working eight hours a day, in order to support his wife and three children, keep the family flier running and buy two new shirts a month?—Chicago Evening Post.

'BUSHEL BASKET' FORTUNE BRINGS BOSTON INQUIRY

BOSTON, Mass., July 29.—Governor Coolidge today ordered Attorney General Wesley Allen to begin an immediate investigation into the business of Charles Ponzi, Boston's "bushel basket millionaire" who in eight months claims to have made $24,000,000, dealing in international postal reply coupons.

United States District Attorney Daniel Gallagher was preparing to begin auditing Ponzi's accounts.

It was learned today that the only account Ponzi kept of the stream of gold which poured into his tiny office was on small cards bearing the name of the customer, the amount invested and the date.

Then and were fought to give Ponzi their gold. It poured in so swiftly that sixteen clerks, engaged in gathering in the money, simply tossed it into a bushel basket and gave the eager clients notes calling for a profit of 50 per cent within ninety days.

ALL IN LITTLE ROOM.
At the end of the day Ponzi and his assistants emptied the bushel baskets of their burden of gold and bills and took it to banks. The cards of the clients were then sorted.

The little room in which Ponzi carried on his rapid transit business is 11 feet wide and 30 feet long.

It was by taking advantage of the difference in postal rates and real exchange rates that Ponzi made the $24,000,000. He traded in international money orders and stamps. Others also have made huge profits, investigation showed.

Under the conversion rates, announced today and effective Aug. 15, an international money order for one pound sterling will be worth $4 in American money. Under the old rate it is worth $4.87.

The new rates applied to monies of other countries make one florin, of the Netherlands, equal of 35c; one krona, of Sweden, worth 24c; one krona, of Denmark or Norway, worth 20c; and 10.30 francs, France and Belgium, are equal to $1.

Ponzi was said to have bought stamps abroad and sold them here at a great profit. The American government, it was made plain, has not lost any money through operations of Ponzi and others, but has been the gatherer. These gains, through money order exchanges, probably total millions of dollars, officials said.

On a personal return Ponzi would pay the government $584,450 on the first of his reported $3,000,000 profit.

Wiggington E. Creed Named Pacific Gas Co. President

WIGGINGTON E. CREED, who has been named president of the Pacific Gas & Electric Company.

Oakland Man to Have Charge of Spending Millions in Improvements.

Wiggington E. Creed, Piedmont attorney, University of California graduate and former regent and president of the East Bay Water Company, today became president of the Pacific Gas & Electric Company to succeed Frank G. Drum, and will have charge of great extension power projects of that corporation to cost millions of dollars, according to announcement by the board of directors.

Creed was elected to the position by the board in San Francisco upon the resignation of Drum yesterday afternoon.

It is understood that $100,000,000 or $200,000,000 will be spent within the next few years by the gas and electric company in developing gigantic power plants to care for the immense San Francisco bay industrial expansion.

Creed, who was an Oakland boy and a graduate of Oakland high school, is president of the Columbia Steel Company, of the Contra Costa County Bank and a director of the Wells-Fargo Nevada National Bank. He was for three years president of the University of California Alumni Association, and was a regent of the college. He married a daughter of John A. Hooper, the lumber magnate, and now lives at 128 Carrington street, Piedmont. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Creed of this city.

George K. Weeks, retired from the board of directors to make place for Creed.

Creed has no intention of resigning as president of the East Bay Water Company, his associates declare.

While declining to give details of the power projects which the Pacific Gas & Electric Company has under way, Creed declared at the same time that the possibilities of great power development in California had attracted him to the gas and electric company.

Drum, the retiring chief executive, became president of California Alameda in 1907. It is understood that when he decided to resign to give his attention to other matters, that he recommended Creed as his successor.

Drum will continue as a director and member of the executive committee.

John A. Britton, vice-president and general manager of the company, will give a dinner Monday night, August 2, at the Palace Hotel, in honor of Creed, at which time he will be formally presented to the directors, the heads of departments and executives.

Drum has issued this statement: "The interests in my charge demands more time and attention than I have at my command. For that reason I resign the presidency of the Pacific Gas & Electric Company. The public and those who are financially and otherwise interested are to be congratulated that Creed has accepted the position of president of the company. Creed has shown himself in a marked degree possessed of the character, ability and energy necessary to carry on the work of development and administration of the great property. I shall remain connected with the company as director and a member of the executive committee."

The body will be taken to Oakland for cremation. Mrs. Kempff, wife of the admiral, died in 1902.

LURED TO COAST BY N. Y. WOMAN, GIRL FLEES DEN

VALLEJO, July 29.—A tale of being lured from New York to San Francisco as the "traveling companion" of a woman of fine talent and apparent wealth, only to find that she was to be forced into a questionable life, was unfolded today by a young woman who gave the name of Mrs. N. Thornton. She admits this is not her real name.

The police have been in communication with her parents in New York and are now awaiting the arrival of transportation to secure her return.

"Mrs. Thornton" is only 19 years old and has a young husband and child in New York. Her life was unhappy, she told the chief of police, and she found sympathy from the woman who brought her west.

When she reached San Francisco and learned of the life she was expected to lead, she says, she fled to Vallejo, where she lived for several days in lodging houses. When she became desperate for want of funds she wrote her parents. The message read:

"The party you are looking for is in Vallejo and very sick and likely to die."

As soon as the message was received in New York her parents notified the Vallejo police, who located the young woman and are caring for her until they can send her back home.

The police have learned that the woman with whom she came West was the wife of a notorious opium smuggler, a Chinaman named Wah, who conducted a resort on Coney Island and is now serving a term in a federal prison.

MADE A HASH OF AUTOLAW, SAYS
STATE COUNSEL

"It wouldn't be quite adequate to say that this man violated the state motor vehicle laws," said prosecuting attorney Hennessey this morning. "He just naturally tore into them and knocked them up against the ropes."

The case was that of Harry Leas, 2123 Woolsey street, Berkeley, arrested last Sunday night on charges of driving without an operator's license, without proper registration and with deserting the scene of an accident after he had hit the car of William Fowler, 3775 Thirty-seventh avenue.

The first two charges are listed as misdemeanors. Leas was fined $2 on one and received a suspended sentence on the other.

On the charge of deserting an injured person, which is a felony, the accused merchant will be tried August 12.

Repents Attempt At Suicide; Friends Close Open Veins

SAN FRANCISCO, July 29.—The hope and beauty of the dawn of a new day, made bright by the rising sun that cast new light into his humble room, caused Peter Holcher to long for life, and he summoned aid to close the wounds he had inflicted just a short while before when weary and tired of it all.

Holcher, aged 60, is an inmate of the San Francisco Reformatory, and during the last few days the other inmates had been teasing him and threatening that he would be locked up in "the duck cell."

Fearing the threats would be carried out, he slashed his wrists, ankles and thighs, and then sat on the edge of the bed waiting for his life blood ebb away. He will live.

HERE'S METHOD OF PROFITS IN MONEY ORDERS

WASHINGTON, July 29.—Operations by which profits were made in trading in international money orders and stamps were explained here today.

A money order for a pound sterling could be bought in London for a little less than $4 American money. In this country the order brought $4.87. Great Britain stood the loss until the government took upon the plan of stopping the practice by taxation. Not all countries have done this, however.

In the same way an Italian 3-cent stamp could be bought for about 1-cent American money. It could be cashed here for 3-cent or sold to a stamp broker for something over four cents.

School Rebuilding Work Starts At Once

Bids for remodeling of the Alameda school at an estimated cost of $25,000 will be advertised by the Board of Education this evening and construction will be commenced during the present vacation in connection with other construction work under way.

Plans for additions to give more classrooms were approved last night at a meeting of the joint building program and citizens' bond expenditure committees, and were forwarded to the Board of Education today.

At last night's meeting approval also was given plans for grading property just purchased for an extension of the Melrose Heights school.

Chaloner Interviews George Washington

LOS ANGELES, July 29.—John Armstrong Chaloner, New York millionaire, and author of the celebrated "who's who" query of several years ago, gave out an interview here in which he styled himself the "only scientific medium in the world's history" and announced he had received a message from George Washington bearing on the League of Nations. Chaloner said Washington expressed a favorable opinion of the League as to its general principles, but opposed membership in it by the United States unless there were reservations protecting the country from European entanglements.

VILLAGE SWEEP BY FIRE

CHICAGO, July 29.—Flames today practically wiped out the business section of the village of Prairie View, Lake county. The damage is estimated at $100,000.

ALAMEDA LIGHT STATION SHOWS $71,000 PROFIT

ALAMEDA, July 29.—The net profit of the Alameda municipal electric light plant, Joseph Kahn, superintendent, for the fiscal year ending June 30 was $71,000, according to figures made public today from the office of City Manager C. E. Hewes. This is the largest profit in the plant's history and 50 per cent greater than that of last year, despite the increase in operation cost. This gain has been made with consumers charged no higher rates than in pre-war times.

Despite the 15 per cent surcharge the city must hereafter pay for power it purchases, under a recent ruling of the Railroad Commission, no advance in the existing rate to consumers is contemplated, says Hewes.

The additional cost to the plant for this surcharge during the year 1920-1921 will be $24,292. It is estimated the saving in light and power cost to residents during the coming year will be over $60,000, in spite of all increased prices.

NAVY HAS OIL FOR DAY ONLY AT SAN DIEGO

SAN FRANCISCO, July 29.—The navy department has enough fuel oil at its San Diego base to last it for another day, but if the oil companies do not offer that to-morrow in spite of price differences orders were received to seize the oil, was announced today.

The supply at Mare Island navy yard is sufficient to last a week and it may then be necessary to seize that in the event it is not offered by the oil companies at the price of $17.2 a barrel demanded by the navy.

WOMAN ASKS JAIL SENTENCE; PLANS REFORM

Two things were disclosed this morning concerning Elsie Moore, who was tried in the police court of Judge George Samuels on a vagrancy charge.

One was her faith in the remedial efficacy of Oakland's penal institution up under the city hall clock and the other was her mathematical turn of mind.

"Well, Elsie," said the judge wearily, "I see you are here again. Yes, your honor. I guess the last time wasn't quite enough."

"Let's see, you drew down sixty days last time, didn't you?" asked the judge.

"Yes, your honor. And when I went out I was about two-thirds reformed. Do you know, judge, if it hadn't been a little longer, I think I wouldn't have strayed again."

COUNCIL MEATS
INDIAN PACKING CORPORATION
GREEN BAY, WISCONSIN

If you could lower your meat bill 15 to 25%—it would seem like old times—wouldn't it? Well, you can, and have as good or perhaps better meat than you are now getting—by cutting out the cost of the waste and trimmings for which you pay. The way to do it is to buy cooked Council Meats.

Why are they cheaper than uncooked meats? Only because Council Meats are fine, tender, prime meats and nothing else—no waste, no trimming. And besides much of the weight of uncooked meat is water—water that is lost in cooking—goes off in steam.

Yet you pay for that water at the price of meat. Being cooked, there is no excess water in Council Meats. They're all meat—meat you can eat—no shrinkage.

That's why their use will lower the meat bill at least from 15 to 25%. And remember, only choice, fine, tender cuts skillfully cooked and seasoned, are used for Council Meats. Start saving today.

Seven delicious, economical, ready-cooked meat meals

SUNDAY	MONDAY	TUESDAY	WEDNESDAY	THURSDAY	FRIDAY	SATURDAY
Roast Beef For 5—70c	Deviled Tongue For 5—80c	Veal Loaf For 5—60c	Potted Ham For 5—80c	Sliced Dried Beef— Creamed For 4—30c	Oven Baked Beans For 4—25c	Corned Beef For 5—70c
That's two whole pounds of mutton, as bone or waste—more than enough for a family of heavy eaters—and such mutton—tender, choice and prime. Ready for the table after heating the can in boiling water for a few minutes. Compare its price with the cost of uncooked meat.	Tender selected tongue, well cooked and perfectly seasoned, then chopped fine. Ready for delicious sandwiches—or for serving hot on toast. For luncheon or picnic or after-theater treats—this deviled tongue is perfect.	Just imagine! Two whole pounds of veal loaf for 60c and Council Veal Loaf is choice, tender, young veal finely chopped with just enough pure, wholesome cereal to give it body and seasoned to be deliciously appetizing. It is a dish the folks will love, yet it is remarkably cheap!	Fine sugar cured ham, cooked right then chopped and mixed with delicate seasoning that adds to that rich ham flavor. Serve on hot toast. For stuffed eggs or green peppers—or just plain sandwiches—you'll find this ham delicious.	A meat supper for 30c—only one glass jar of Council Sliced Dried Beef and a simple cream sauce are required. Each water slice of beef is tender and seasoned to perfection. — And just figure the meat dish for supper for all the folks at a cost of 50c. There is economy for you!	A large can of oven-baked beans costing a quarter, is a meal in itself, and note that the Council Beans are genuine oven-baked, not steamed or bottled—each bean is, therefore, a meaty, delicate, tender whole and digestible too. Council Baked Beans are as good cold as hot, either with or without tomato sauce.	Council Corned Beef, tender and juicy, pickled to an appetizing sharpness—there's a meal for a man. Delicious served cold in its natural jolly, and a feast when heated in the can before serving.

U. S. AID ASKED TO SEIZE LEROY

DETROIT, Mich., July 29.—Formal request for extradition of O. J. Fernandez, alias E. Leroy, alias O. J. Wood, suspected in the New York-Detroit trunk murder, reported located at Saltillo, Mex., will be made through the State Department at Washington today, police intimates.

A reward of from $3000 to $5000 for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the trunk slayer was announced by local authorities today.

NEW YORK, July 29.—The police announce today they have discovered a marked similarity between the handwriting of E. Leroy, sought in connection with the murder of his wife, whose body was found jammed in a trunk shipped from Detroit, and that of F. M. Poulverer, who disappeared after the slaying here last August of Cecil E. Landon, an Oregon soldier. Poulverer and Landon registered at the Hotel McAlpin. Landon was found dead, slain by a blow from a chandelier, and Poulverer had disappeared.

BIRMINGHAM, July 29.—Lieutenant John P. Smith, Detroit detective, planned to leave today for Sturgis, Miss., to question Kid McCoy, former husband of Katherine Jackson, victim of the trunk murder mystery.

U. S. Sailors Accused of Stealing Auto
John Kelly and Paul Williams, sailors in the United States navy, this morning were in the police court of Judge George Samuels for preliminary hearing on a grand larceny charge. Last week Kelly and Williams are said to have stolen an automobile belonging to Edward Beaupre, 2442 Twenty-third avenue, and in Martinez tried to sell it to a garage man for $75, it is said.

The car was worth at least ten times the price and the dealer in second-hand cars at once became suspicious. He told the boys, he said, to wait until he drew the money from a bank and then to come back. If they had asked $500 for the car they would probably have gotten away with it, the dealer said this morning.

The two alleged thieves were held to answer to the superior court for trial by Judge Samuels, who fixed bail at $2000 in each case.

Pleasanton Offers Free Rodeo Events on Noted Track, Sunday

"Doug." MacLean to Direct Riders and Movie Stars in Day of Festivities.

PLEASANTON, July 29.—A day of horse riding, broncho busting, bull riding, and many other sports of the range rider is the attraction Pleasanton offers to visitors next Sunday. There will also be dancing, air feats by aviators, band concerts and vaudeville.

It will be Pleasanton's way of drawing attention to itself as an attractive place for folks to spend a Sunday outing and also as the center of an increasing motion picture industry.

Pleasanton's charms have long been felt by people from the cities around the bay and every Sunday sees increasingly greater crowds motoring there for a day of relaxation.

No less than pleasure seekers have people of the motion picture world learned to appreciate the many varied scenic settings that are to be found around Pleasanton. Every few weeks some large company arrives by special train from Los Angeles to lay the scenes of their productions in the Pleasanton hills and country.

The Thomas H. Ince Motion Picture Corporation and the Douglas MacLean productions have joined with the Pleasanton Chamber of Commerce in promoting the event.

The day's events will be held on the Pleasanton race track beginning at 10 a. m. and will last until 5 p. m. The race track is the most noted in the state.

Douglas MacLean himself, who is now at Pleasanton filming the story "When Johnny Comes Marching Home," will be there to direct the day's events. His company, some one hundred players, will show how motion pictures are made.

Entrance to the grounds, grandstand and all events are free.

SPOUSE HAD TWO SIDES, SAYS WIFE

You have to marry a man to find out his real character, is the opinion of Mrs. Margaret Turnbull, who was granted an interlocutory decree of divorce from Arthur Turnbull, a Southern Pacific engineer.

Mrs. Turnbull told Judge A. F. St. Sure that she had known Turnbull twenty-five years before she married him in San Francisco on September 8, 1919. During their long acquaintance Turnbull seemed to be a model man, she declared, but his disposition and treatment of her showed a decided change after their marriage. Turnbull proved to have a violent temper, she said, and would fly into rages during which he would hurl vile epithets at her, and throw her clothes and dishes around the house.

Declaring that Mrs. Bernice A. Kohlmoos has been his wife in name only, Christian E. Kohlmoos, a mechanic, has filed suit for divorce.

Air Mail Fleet Leaves East on Flight to S. F.

NEW YORK, July 29.—Three all-metal monoplanes, carrying the first transcontinental aerial mail, left the city today for San Francisco, Long Island, at 10:05 o'clock today for San Francisco.

The route to be followed lies over Cleveland, Chicago, Omaha, Cheyenne, Salt Lake City and Reno, where stops will be made.

It is proposed to gain information that will be utilized in establishing an all-mail route between New York and San Francisco.

Approximately 1000 pieces of mail were carried by the planes. Among them were letters from Otto Freyer, second assistant postmaster general to the mayors of Cheyenne, Salt Lake and San Francisco, and to chambers of commerce along the route.

Plane No. 1 owned by the United States Army, will be retained on the Pacific coast for forest fire patrol duty between San Diego and Portland.

Those making the flight are: Plane No. 1—Pilot H. T. Lewis of the Air Mail Service; Captain Harold E. Hartney, of the Army Air Service; Major Leon B. Lent and Captain Edward R. Rickert, leading aviators of the American army fliers in France during the war.

Plane No. 2—Pilot Emil John M. Larsen, Ernest Ruhl and L. E. Alayne, of Cleveland, Ohio.

DRY'S SENATOR
CANDIDATE CAN NOT MAKE RACE

SACRAMENTO, July 29.—A. J. Wallace, former lieutenant governor of California, a dry leader in the church federation and anti-saloon forces, failed to qualify as the prohibition candidate for United States senator at the first day for filing petitions with the Secretary of State Frank C. Jordan.

This became known today when James M. Cramin, statistician, completed the check on the names and found the prohibitionists had fallen eighty-four names short of the number required to qualify their candidate. There were 614 names.

WHY NOT GIBSON,
GOV. IS ASKED

SACRAMENTO, July 29.—The Housewives' Union, No. 1, with headquarters at Palo Alto, has appealed to Governor Stephens to save the life of Moses Gibson, negro, who confessed to seven murders after he had been condemned to hang at San Quentin prison on September 24. The appeal is against the law of capital punishment and racial prejudice, and suggests to the Governor that should Gibson, a negro, hang, comparison will be made with the case of "Bluebeard" Watson, a white man, who confessed many murders and received only life imprisonment. The letter is signed by Marion S. Alderton, secretary of the union.

RICE MEN REPLY TO WATER SUIT

Demurrers to the suit brought by the city of Antioch to restrain rice growers from using the waters of the Sacramento and San Joaquin rivers for irrigation purposes on the ground it is endangering the water supply of the city, were filed today by Attorney Thomas Rutledge on behalf of nine defendants. They are N. B. Sartain, Amanda Terrill, C. M. Terrill, R. L. Munnia, R. C. Wohlfrom, A. F. Pohlstrom, E. M. Gordon, J. R. Scheimer and J. W. Browning.

The suit is attacked on several grounds. First that the complaint does not state sufficient facts to warrant a cause of action, second, that no description of plaintiffs' lands which are riparian to the rivers are given; third, failure to allege that the city of Antioch is entitled to any definite quantity of water. Fourth, that the city is making any use of the water on riparian rights and that the suit fails to state what amount of water is or has been necessary for the city's use.

Arguments on the demurrers are expected to be fought out before Judge A. F. St. Sure when the hearing on the temporary injunction asked by the city of Antioch is resumed next Monday.

Officers Are Lauded by Police Bulletin
Good police work in the apprehension of several criminals during the last few days resulted in glowing commendations in the Police Bulletin, the weekly publication issued by the police department, for several inspectors and patrolmen.

A special tribute was paid by Acting Chief of Police James T. Drew to Inspectors Frank Dossick and Richard McSweeney in conducting the Carleton robbery case.

Sergeant C. O. Hunt and Officers A. B. Stebbins and A. H. Nelson are also commended for their work in apprehending Leo Brannan and Edward Collins, who confessed to Rosick and McGorley that they were the Carleton robbers.

Patrolman Daniel Farrow is mentioned in the Bulletin for arresting Arthur Clifford, accused of robbing an East Oakland saloon. Inspector Frank Neils, who afterward recovered loot taken from the saloon, was also commended.

In accordance with the recommendation of Captain B. A. Wallman, commanding officer of the Central police division, five officers were highly commended by Acting Chief Drew for their work in arresting John Hogan and James Barris, alleged highwaymen, after a desperate fight early Sunday morning.

They are A. Macomber, H. O'Hara, E. O'Donnell, Edward Brown and Ben Godkins.

LEARNED WIRE TO TRIBUNE.
SAN DIEGO, July 29.—Aviators James Hennessey and Fred Morgan have been missing here since June 24. The two men and a biplane are sought by Sheriff Byers, at request of persons who claim the plane was last seen near the mountains.

Morgan was planning a passenger-carrying and exhibition flying trip from here shortly before they disappeared. The theory has been advanced that they might have had an accident in some lonely section of the mountains.

ASK THE TRIBUNE A Department of Questions and Answers

Medical or legal advice or the value of coins or information regarding proprietary articles will not be given in this column. Name and address of questioner must be given to permit reply by mail if found desirable, but such name and address will not be published. Anonymous queries will not be answered.

Editor The TRIBUNE: I once bought a liquid which I put on newspaper drawings to obtain a duplicate copy, by rubbing my hand on the back of the drawing, transferring the picture to a sheet of drawing paper. What is the liquid called and where can it be purchased?—Miss Skarin.

You probably purchased a bottle of liquid which is sold under the label "Jamicco." There are also other brands of liquid which will produce the same effect. Turpentine will also answer the same purpose provided the print is fresh. "Jamicco" is sold at book stores.

Editor The TRIBUNE: In what hunting section of California, and what county are the manganese mines that are on the Mt. Hamilton road that runs east from Livermore and north from Mt. Hamilton?—Phil.

Section No. 3. There are manganese mines on this road in both Alameda and Santa Clara counties.

Editor The TRIBUNE: If a contract or loan is signed to be "payable in gold coin," and as it now is, gold unobtainable, can the person making the loan be forced to take legal tender, that is paper money? Also a Federal Reserve note reads: "redeemable in gold on demand. Can a person get gold on demand at the Federal Reserve Bank in San Francisco?"—N. F.

(a) Yes. Currency is declared equivalent to gold and therefore can be used in payment of debts which call for gold coin. (b) Yes, if the bank has it.

Editor The TRIBUNE: Will you kindly tell me how Madame Nazimova pronounces her name? What nationality is she? Is there any law compelling employers who employ women to provide chairs or seats of any kind during an eight-hour day?—S.

(a) Nahn-zee-mova, with accent on "zee". (b) Russian. (c) Yes. In most states only.

R. H. S.—See note above. Yours is a legal question.

Editor The TRIBUNE: Would you please give me the addresses of the various ink manufacturing concerns in Oakland, Berkeley and San Francisco? Where can I obtain some India ink sticks, and also some capricorn atramentarius, a fungi from which indelible ink is made?—H. S. Davis.

(a) Caldwell Ink Company, 279 Twelfth street; California Ink Company, Camela and Third streets; Superior Printing Ink Company, Stanford avenue and Doyle street; J. B. Lanterink Ink Company, 500 Broadway; F. F. Porter Ink Company, 1421 Broadway. The ink manufacturing concerns in San Francisco are: Ault & Wiborg Company, 140 Second street; California Ink Company, 10 Clarendon street; Carter Ink Company, 114 Bush street; Edwards Manufacturing Company, 20 Natoma street; Golden West Printing Ink Company, 601 Sansome street; J. Huber Company, 422 Sacramento street, and the Montebello Ink Company, 620 Clay street. (b) Tiy the Montebello company.

Editor The TRIBUNE: Does the wireless station at Goat Island transmit wireless messages to the coast? If so, please give the call letters. Also please tell me the location of the station that sends the time signals by wireless and its call letters.—C. F. H.

(a) Yes. (b) The Federal officials, who are responsible for the safe keeping of radio secrets, inform us that you will be able to get in touch with them by calling either Sutter 7112 or Garfield 1833. Such information is given out only to those who can show legitimate reasons for asking it.

Editor The TRIBUNE: Where is the nearest representative of the International Sales Company, which has headquarters in Seattle, located? I believe there is one in San Francisco. If so, would you please give me its address?—G. H.

The International Sales Company has no office of its own in San Francisco or Oakland, so far as various published mercantile lists show.

Editor The TRIBUNE: Has the civil war debt been paid. If so, when?—A Subscriber.

By the act of Congress of February 25, 1862, the issuance of bonds due in from 5 to 20 years was authorized to cover the war debt, which by 1926 had mounted to $2,700,000,000. These bonds were all redeemed years ago. This constitutes a payment of the debt.

Editor The TRIBUNE: Are there any other classics written by Adelle Garrison, who is running the story "My Heart and Husband" in The TRIBUNE? Is the present story running in The TRIBUNE a sequel to another story?—B. H., Berkeley.

The story now running in The TRIBUNE is a sequel to "Revelations of a Wife." Any other information concerning her works can be secured from the Newspaper Feature Service, 21 West 58th street, N. Y. C.

Editor The TRIBUNE: Why are American citizenship papers not recognized in Greece?—A. M., Oakland.

The Greek consul in San Francisco, who you should see for further information, says that the naturalization treaty between Greece and the United States provides that a Greek must specifically renounce his citizenship in his home country before he can be recognized as an alien. In other words, a Greek, naturalized as a citizen of the United States, would be considered a Greek if he returned home unless he went through the formality of renouncing his Greek citizenship.

RAILWAY AGENT GETS PROMOTION

A. H. Moffitt, for eight years a city passenger agent and traffic man in Oakland and San Francisco, was today appointed district passenger agent of the Western Pacific railroad.

Laurence T. Bayley has been appointed agent in ticketing.

W. H. Davenport, general agent, will continue as chief of the freight department, with offices in the Eastern Building.

The opening of the Western Pacific ticket office and the appointment of a district passenger agent here marks the complete separation of the Western Pacific from the federally organized consolidated offices.

"The first six months' business of the Western Pacific under private ownership has been the largest in the history of the road," declared Moffitt today. "The traffic to Feather river canyon and the Royal Gorge has been exceptional."

"The road is back to normal conditions and from all appearances there are even more prosperous times ahead. I anticipate no trouble on the Western Pacific either from congestion or from industrial troubles."

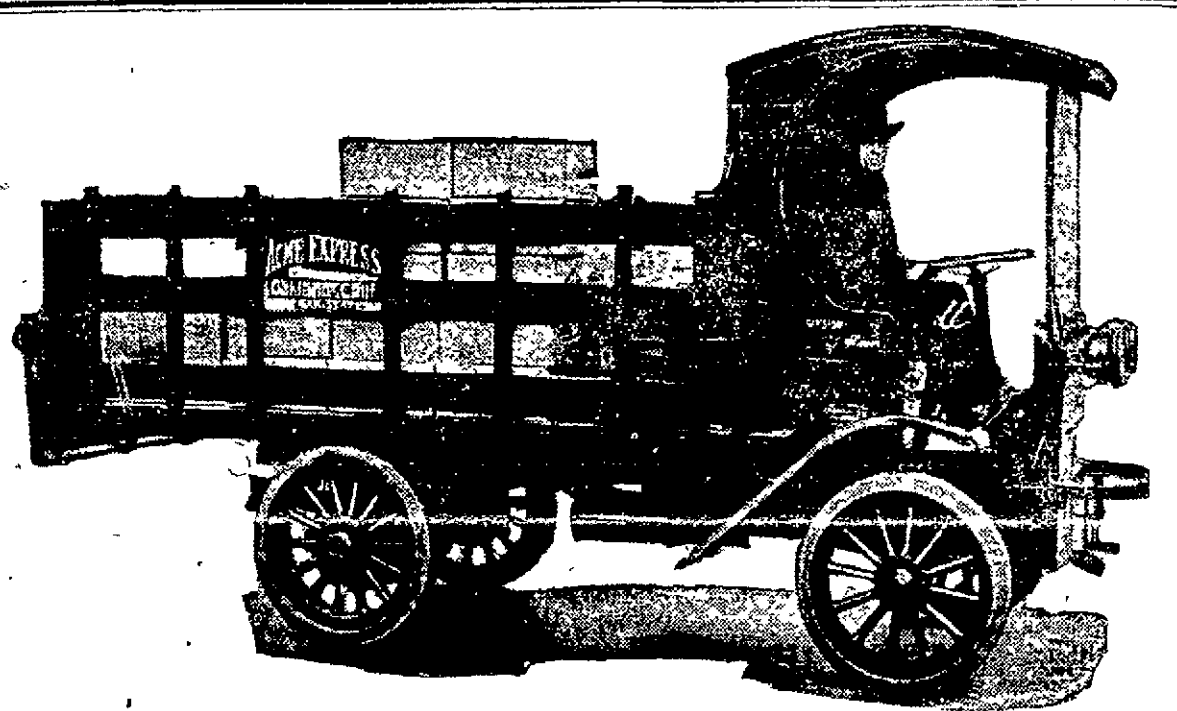

The new Western Pacific offices have been established at 436 Thirteenth street.

U. S. READY FOR JAPAN RIVALRY IN FREIGHT WAR

By LEE ELMARKER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, July 28.—Threats of foreign nations against the United States merchant marine act of 1920 will be met with immediate action by the Shipping Board to prevent the consummation of the "foreign designs," according to an announcement made today by the board.

Under the merchant marine act, the United States can secure preferential treatment for American shipping. This has been resented by both Japan, which has similar legislation, and England. Japan has threatened to take action against American shipping, and the preferential provisions of the merchant marine act are enforced.

TWO WAYS OPEN
The Shipping Board feels it has two opportunities to prevent any discrimination against American bottoms. If Japan, as has been suggested, makes special regulations on freight to American ports to drive American competition from the market, the board will take action to prevent the consummation of the "foreign designs," according to an announcement made today by the board.

BENSON EXPLAINS LAW
Explaining the provisions of the merchant marine act to a club of foreign countries, Rear Admiral Benson of the Shipping Board declared:

"The discriminatory features of the law are not intended as a club over foreign competition. They are merely there to force our competitors to play the game fairly. Foreign shipping interests must stop their discriminations against American vessels if they do not wish us to resort to section 28 of the act."

Section 28, providing for preferential rates for goods to be shipped in American bottoms, will not be placed into operation before January 1, because of the inability of the board to complete its investigations of travel lanes and because of the immense amount of freight being handled.

Officials of the board explained the Japanese law, granting preferential rates and rebates to ship companies, has caused American vessels to return to the United States without full cargoes on numerous occasions.

Russia Is Becoming World Menace, Says Mrs. Snowden

BERLIN, June 28.—(By Mail.)—Recognition of Russia was counselled here today by Mrs. Philip Snowden, of the British Labor Mission to Russia, as the safest means of heading off the development into an "imperialistic" nation with a "Napoleonic" ambition to dominate Europe in the present hazy condition, it would be a "tragic calamity."

Her plea was not based on prohibitionism, for the commission has not been asked to prohibit Russia, she declared, had failed to live up to its own standards, and as for its extension to other lands, Mrs. Snowden regarded that as out of the question.

As for the "tragic calamity" of recognition of Russia by the rest of the world would be the quickest way to alter the system there and correct the evils now existing. Let in the light of the world's knowledge of the situation, when Russia knew the criticism of the rest of the world, it would quickly change. In fact, I think that bolshevism's internal criticism, checked by the public opinion of the rest of the world and strengthened by political recognition of the nation—would soon see to it that a modification of the situation would be effected.

"What have you to say as to the Bolsheviki danger to the rest of the world," the correspondent asked.

"It can be a danger," she replied. "The Bolsheviki are going to defeat the Poles. And I can tell you that every victory makes things worse, since it gives Russia a new pride, a new confidence. And the growth of this spirit can be dangerous to the rest of the world. I am convinced that if Russia is not recognized, but instead is fought, she will simply grow into an imperialistic, capitalist and militaristic nation with a Napoleon at its head. And if a Napoleon is let loose on Europe in the present hazy condition, it would be a 'tragic calamity.'"

She declared bolshevism was Russia's method of expressing the world-wide movement of labor for a "better deal" than heretofore. For England, the system would be impossible, though Mrs. Snowden advocated considerable alterations in the "better deal" system.

As for the condition of women in Russia, Mrs. Snowden declared: "They are on an absolutely equal footing with men. They receive the same pay for the same work, have equal suffrage, and are treated as men's equals. The industrial situation is such that all women must work."

"As for the children I can say that there is a strong effort to uphold the growing generation. The former nobles' estates are converted into fresh air homes for groups of children, given preferential food treatment."

Mrs. Snowden regards the present Russian system as despotism, just as despotism as early though on quite opposite lines. But she believes, as Dr. Guest of the commission, that a certain amount of capitalism will be injected ultimately into the bolshevistic regime.

SANTA FE PLANS FERRY RENEWAL
Santa Fe officials this morning confirmed the report that the company is planning to resume operations of its ferry between Richmond and San Francisco, but refused to say what action was planned for September, as reported. The matter of resuming the ferry service is now being considered, but no definite steps have been decided upon, according to the officials.

Santa Fe passenger trains have been operating from the Oakland mole since control of the railroad was taken over by the United States railroad administration. Since the road went back to private ownership, the company has continued using the Oakland terminal through an agreement with the Southern Pacific company. It is admitted by Santa Fe officials that negotiations are now under way between the two companies, whereby the Oakland terminal will be abandoned by the Santa Fe company and the ferry service from Richmond established.

Another feature of the ferry situation is the announcement of the Six Minute Ferry company of Richmond that preparation is being made to establish a ferry between Richmond and San Francisco. Manager of the Richmond ferry, Mr. J. W. Richards, said today that the company will meet with officials of the San Francisco chamber of commerce Friday night to discuss the contemplated service.

Richmond was offered to give the ferry company a ship space between the municipal dock and the Santa Fe slips for this purpose. The ferry will be run by the Richmond company, way over cutting headway. If the plans mature the company will purchase two steel ferries to be placed on the run and would give a minute and a half service between Richmond and San Francisco. This would establish direct connection with the transcontinental military highway.

"MAYFLOWER IS FOUND," SHE'S A BARN NOW, TALE
LONDON, July 28.—Discovery of the hull of the Mayflower, the ship in which the Pilgrims sailed to America, is claimed by Dr. Rendell Harris, chairman of the English speaking unit of the committee to the Daily Mail. He will reveal details at a conference in Plymouth in September.

The paper learns that old timber, inciting onkers, supporting the roof, found in a barn adjoining an inn at Buckinghamshire, are considered by Dr. Harris to have originally formed part of the hull of the Mayflower. Some of the beams, worn and worm-eaten, bear markings indicating they might formerly have held ship's rivets and tackle.

There is a local theory, the paper says, that a "Quaker" formerly lived in the neighborhood who was a professional ship worker, selling ship timbers to farmers. Harris has suggested that he broke up the Mayflower and sold the timbers to the owner of the inn.

No proof of this tradition is offered.

Blending the care of his mother, who died of a heart attack yesterday afternoon toward the play, it was not long before his absence was noted and Mrs. Wightman began an immediate search, which led to the discovery of his body.

Wightman manages the boat that carries the mail from Antioch to points on the delta islands. It is a member of the former U. S. Pacific Mail line, who until recently was postmaster here. The body was brought to Antioch today.

LIGHT PUNCH IN THE SECOND SENDS REED SPRAWLING ON FLOOR

Hears Count, But Refuses to Get Up; Teddy O'Hara Scores Knockout Over Bert Forbes

By BOB SHAND.
WILD BILL REED gracefully bowed himself out of the local fight game last night when he refused to get up after being slapped on the mouth by Jim Barry in the second round of their bout at the Auditorium. The punch was not hard enough to hurt a lightweight, but Reed went to the floor, arose on one knee and made funny motions with his head, trying to indicate that he was dazed. The referee counted off the seconds within six inches of the Reed starboard ear and spoke loud enough to be heard in the gallery, but Reed let "Nine and out" go by without attempting to get up. When Barry's hand was raised three seconds later and Reed knew that the fight was over, he hopped to his feet and wanted to continue fighting. Promoter Simpson occupied a seat close to the ringside and observed what happened. "He took one of these well-known flops," was Simpson's comment, "and he is through as far as I am concerned."

LOCAL PLAYERS ARE MAKING GOOD WITH CANADIAN LEAGUE

Joe Devine Writes Interesting Letter About Athletes Who Hail From Here.

By EDDIE MURPHY
Joe Devine's Calgary club in the Western Canadian League, and which is made up principally of California boys and others who are well known in these parts, failed to cop first place in the first half of the race. Joe's outfit, which is known as the Bronks, led in almost everything in the averages, but the Regina club just managed to land in front. In the closing weeks of the first half hard luck hit Devine's club, but now Calgary is going good and is leading the second half of the race by four games. While the Canadian League is not classed with the Coast League, it is said to be considerably faster than the Pacific International League. Players who were stars in leagues of higher classification not so many years ago are sporting units in that league. Among them are Nick Williams, Bill Spes, Gus Gleichmann, Pat Kilhullen, Joe Sweeney and Carl Manda.

Several young fellows who performed in The TRIBUNE Midwinter League and who were signed by Joe Devine to serve their first year in professional ball are going great in the Canadian League and Devine writes that several of them will be grabbed by clubs in faster company before the season comes to an end. As was predicted by the first who followed the game in the last winter league, Walter (Seap) Christensen, the fellow who smacked a 4 for Christensen, is one of the brightest stars of the league. He finished the first half of the race with a .375 average and was tied with the veteran Bill Spes for scoring the most runs during the first half of the season. Christensen has been whaling the ball at a much harder clip since the season started and has hit home five times and two hits per game. Christensen was grabbed by the Seals and Del Howard of the Oaks, who was grabbed by the Seals and Del Howard of the Oaks, who was grabbed by the Seals and Del Howard of the Oaks.

Gossip for Baseball Fans

We are back to seventh place again and the Coyotes are in the basement. Carl Holling opened the door for the Oaks to get out of the basement by beating the Coyotes 3 to 1.

Carl took a lot of fight out of the Coyotes in the first inning by tanning McGuffigan, Kopp and Orr, the first three batters to face him.

The Oaks landed on Fittery for all their runs in the third inning. With Holling disposed of, Wills and Brubaker singled. Brubaker was caught out off first. Cooper scored Wills with a single. Hack Miller drew a walk and both runners advanced on a wild pitch. Jack Knight "aced" the game with a double that scored two.

Doubles by Ryan and Compton gave the Coyotes their lone run in the seventh.

The game was another of those fast ones usually put on by the Sacramento Coyotes. Fans would enjoy every ball game if they were played by all clubs as fast as the Coyotes play them.

Last week Billy Lane was out of the line up with a sore rib. Now he is suffering with a sore ankle.

The Coyotes threatened to tie the score in the ninth when Compton and Sheehan started off with singles, and advanced a bag on Miller's error. Mitzel's throw got Sheehan trying for second. Ryan and Mollwitz both fled to Wills.

Poor Ernie Johnson, he must be wishing that he had Marty Krug back to play second again. His error in the eighth was a costly one.

The Bees got fourteen hits off Wheeler Del, but they were not as timely as those made by the Tigers.

Stroud and Bromley worked for the Bees. Chabourne, Fisher and DeVormer did some nice hitting.

Richmond Elks Are Defeated in Close Game at Petaluma

The Richmond Elks were handed a 5 to 4 beating by the Petaluma club at Petaluma and the teams now have two wins each in their series.

"Lefty" Fisher was on the hill for the Elks in place of Babe Hollis and the young southpaw pitched a nice game in spite of his defeat. He allowed five hits. Eight of the winners allowed four hits and fanned seven. The Elks threatened to win the game in the ninth inning when they scored two runs. Andie fanned. Lane singled. Bartola flew out. Fisher walked. Benn doubled, scoring Lane, and Fisher was called out at the plate in the close play in trying to score after a throw from the outfield bounced over the catcher's head.

Singles by Jack Hanley and Dutch Holstrom, followed by Jackson's two-bagger clinched the game. For the chicken town boys in the eighth inning. Next Sunday the Elks will play Santa Clara at Richmond, and the following Sunday they will play the Tractors at San Leandro.

STATE NEWS

SUTTER CITY, July 29.—Burglars raided business and residence districts and escaped in a stolen automobile from the garage of Richard Griffith. Sheriff B. B. Mansford succeeded in tracking them as far as Long Bridge, between Sutter City and Mendocino.

The store of Tony Vagades was entered and $10 stolen. From the shop of Dick Victor an acetone tank was taken. The F. W. Moxie store was entered. Here the burglars obtained $100.

RATTLER BITES GIRL.—LOOMIS, July 29.—Bitten by a huge rattlesnake while at play in the barn on her father's farm, Patricia, young daughter of Dr. Ostrom, was rushed to the office of Dr. Ostrom here. When the child reached the office of the physician she was unconscious. She was revived and is recovering slowly.

FIRE MENACES RESORTS.—YREKA, July 29.—Forest fires are raging in the Shovel Creek district near the Klamath river, and unless checked soon the Klamath Hot Springs resorts will be in danger. High winds have carried the fire beyond control. There is a scarcity of men for fire fighting, and unless the situation improves within twenty-four hours the forest rangers will be instructed to draft all tourists available into the service, according to Perry J. Ball, acting forest supervisor. The Shovel Creek ranchers are fighting hard against the flames and up to the present no ranches are endangered.

CANYON FIRE REPORTED.—OROVILLE, July 29.—Forest Ranger Jack Sander has been called from Oroville with a force of fire fighters to the Bald Rock canyon, where a forest fire was reported to be raging. The Bald Rock canyon is among the most rugged sections of the State. A full equipment of fire fighting apparatus was taken.

BLAZE IS CONTROLLED.—PLACERVILLE, July 29.—The forest service called out more than a hundred men to fight a fire in the El Dorado National forest. The fire is reported under control.

AMERICAN LEAGION Gossip

Oakland Post No. 5, of the American Legion will send thirty-six delegates to the state convention of the Legion which will be held in San Diego August 29, for a three-day session. In order to raise funds to pay a portion of the expenses of the delegates, the Legion baseball team will play a game at the Pacific Coast Coliseum, Park Sunday with the Golden Gate Post nine. The gate receipts from this game are expected to furnish the major portion of the funds necessary to finance the delegates. Members of Oakland Post No. 5 are requested to call at the Legion office on the eighth floor of the Syndicate building and sign up for any number of tickets to the game. The only means of disposing of the tickets prior to the game is through the personal efforts of the members themselves, delegates especially. Oakland wants a full representation at the convention.

The local Legion ball team last Sunday invaded Alcatraz island and came home with another victory. The score was 6 to 3. Prior to the game Sunday the Alcatraz team had won 23 out of 29 straight games and was betting it would win against the Oakland post.

During the course of the game the Oakland suggests put nine new bases in the field. At Alcatraz "base" the fence is out and a home run is credited to the batter.

More bodies from France are expected to arrive at the Oakland Mole the first of next week. There will be some for Oakland, according to advance information. W. T. Hopkins, the local post, has requested all members and all who are interested to turn out to escort the bodies from the mole to their respective destinations in Oakland, or from local undertakers' parlors to the cemetery, to notify him at once so arrangements can be made to pay honor to the dead comrades.

Oakland Post will hold a theater party at the T. and P. Theater on August 12, as a means of raising funds for the sending of the delegates to the convention.

Pioneer Woman of Oakland Is Buried.

The funeral of Mrs. Lottie B. Church, California pioneer, who resided at 377 L. Avenue, Oakland, was held Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock from local undertaking parlors. Mrs. Church was Mrs. Lottie Brooks before her marriage in 1868. Edward O. Church, a civil engineer, then engaged in building the Missouri Pacific railroad. She came west with her parents when she was three years old and settled in Contra Costa county. She was educated at the Methodist College in Santa Clara county, now the College of the Pacific. When she was 17 years old she returned with her mother via Panama and New York to Kansas City, where she was married. She later returned to Oakland with her husband and two children.

Her husband, who survives her, was a veteran of the civil war. He is a member of the G. A. R. Post of Oakland. She is also survived by son, Albert B. Church, of San Francisco, and Katie C. Stevens, 369 Lester avenue, Oakland, a daughter.

LIQUOR UNCLAIMED.—HILO, Island of Hawaii, T. H., July 29.—Thirteen cases of Scotch whisky and dry gin, found on a wharf here recently, are going begging. The liquor was discovered accidentally in the territorial fruit and plant warehouse and was seized by internal revenue officers.

News of the Theaters

FULTON—Following this week's presentation of "Tillie," dramatized version of Helen R. Martin's famous story of a Mennonite maid, the Fulton theater will offer as next week's attraction the screaming comedy, "Stop Chief." The latter play is one of the funniest farces ever produced on the stage. It abounds in clean, rollicking mirth and with a rapid fire change of funny situations. This week's play, "Tillie," is producing an undiminished delight with its quaint, queer members of the Dutch Mennonite household, its charming daughter, as much unlike the folk who surround her as a delicate, beautiful sweet pea is unlike a flaming beauty, and its appealing romance.

Musical Director Wallace Haworth is running the gamut of grand and light operas in his melange of musical offerings this week.

ORPHEUM—The program to be shown at the Orpheum, commencing next week, is to contain four featured plays. The first, "The Crooks Fashion Plate," are the featured actors, Irene Franklin ranks as one of the foremost and most popular comedienne of the day. Assisted by Burton Green, Solly Ward and Company, Jack Wyatt and his Scotch lads and ladies and "The Crooks Fashion Plate," are the featured actors. Irene Franklin ranks as one of the foremost and most popular comedienne of the day. Assisted by Burton Green, Solly Ward and Company, Jack Wyatt and his Scotch lads and ladies and "The Crooks Fashion Plate," are the featured actors.

AMERICAN—Clara Kimball Young continues to draw big crowds to the American, where she is appearing in "For the Sake of the Nation," a gripping story of the days when Mexico owned California and the play is rich in plot and color and supporting the star is a cast of film celebrities. On the same bill appears William Desmond in "A Broadway Cowboy," a film unique in its plot but full of western "kick." There are many laughs. John Wharry Lewis and his orchestra and Edgar Bayless at the organ offer the musical program.

T. AND D.—"The Love Expert" a story dealing with the question of love, is being presented at the T. and D. and the leading role is being ably carried by Constance Talmadge. The play is a comedy of its own and until the final fade-out it holds a breathless interest. On the same program is "The Love Expert," a feature film, the scene of which is laid in the city of Rome. It is a strong play, based upon a woman's story for her husband. On the whole it is a drama with a heart's appeal without being melodramatic. Also included in the program are the usual T. and D. vaudeville acts and Dr. Carlos De Mundi and his twenty-five musicians.

KINEMA—Intense adventure, tender love, half-raising escapades and impressive settings of the glorious West make "Desert Love," now playing at the Kinema, a compelling picture. Tom Mix, the darndest of the screen, furnishes thrill after thrill as the Arizona sheriff. A wonderfully sweet love romance runs through this story. The Kinema Metropolitan introduces its feature with an atmospheric prologue, and in the last of the story, Larry Simon has a whole of a time in "School Days." Screen Suggests shows the intimate life of noted movie stars, and an appeal to the audience to support the silent round out the program.

PANTAGES—At the Pantages this week is "The Love Expert," a story dealing with the question of love, is being presented at the T. and D. and the leading role is being ably carried by Constance Talmadge. Also included in the program are the usual T. and D. vaudeville acts and Dr. Carlos De Mundi and his twenty-five musicians.

Y. LIBERTY—The re-opening of the Liberty theater will be held next Monday evening. The re-opening will be featured by the appearance of Charlotte Greenwood in "Linger Longer Lett." The new program, which comes to Oakland from a successful engagement at the Curran theater, is a comedy of the upper crust demands that married folks should have an affinity on the side, and the newlyweds, for fear of being snubbed, obey this rule with very complicated and hilarious results. On the same bill is a very appealing "The Love Expert," a story of a girl's life, and the interesting news weekly.

BROADWAY—If we could only see the future with the eyes of youth, how easily could we make vital decisions affecting our lives. This is the abiding problem dealt with by Clara Kimball Young, the favorite of the youth of the city, who is appearing in "The Love Expert," a story of a girl's life, and the interesting news weekly.

FRANKLIN—Douglas MacLean and Doris May were never better in their comedy delineations than in "Let's Be Fashionable," now playing at the Franklin. The comedy stars are cast as a pair of newlyweds who travel in the swift set of ultra-modern society. The comedy is a perfect crust demands that married folks should have an affinity on the side, and the newlyweds, for fear of being snubbed, obey this rule with very complicated and hilarious results. On the same bill is a very appealing "The Love Expert," a story of a girl's life, and the interesting news weekly.

IDORA PARK—Free swimming lessons continue to be the star morning attraction at Idora Park during the week days. The free dance pavilion is still attracting hosts of fox trotters during the evenings. On next Sunday several special events are scheduled. The U. P. E. C. Portuguese band, under the directorship of Mario Costa, will render afternoon and evening concerts in connection with the big outdoor dance on the 31st. The Camels, who have been the big attraction of the season, will stage the senior 50-yard championship for men.

Dark London Problem
LONDON, July 29.—The wife of Lord Mayor Cooper, Mrs. Tennant, on the occasion of the recent opening ceremonies of a refuge for homeless children at Walthamstow, said that the time had come for someone to give "the unusual number of unwanted children" their father's name. The Lord Mayor declared that both during and since the war the increase in the number of illegitimate children has been "simply terrible" and that the death rate among these children is appalling.
